ELDERLY MAN IS FOUND DEAD AT HIS HOME

Howard Sharrah, 70, was found dead Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the garage at his home in Cashtown.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, has directed an autopsy be performed today to determine the cause of death.

Mr. Sharrah had suffered a stroke two years ago but had recovered well from the effects of the stroke.

Dr. Crist said this afternoon that he report of the autopsy from Dr. C. Harold Johnson showed the man died of a heart attack. It was theorized the man suffered the heart attack as he was walking or standing in the garage and then fell to the ground in the closed garage where the car motor was running. He probably lost consciousness after the fall either from the coronary or from striking his head as he fell, the report indicated.

A son of Mrs. Mary Deardorff Sharrah, Cashtown, and the late Jacob Sharrah, he was a native of Adams County and had been employed by the Victor Products Corporation until it closed, at which time he retired.

SERVICES THURSDAY

He was a member of Flohr's Lutheran Church, the Cashtown Fire Company and the Adams County Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Surviving in addition to his mother are his wife, the former Frances Pisel, whom he wed in 1923; a daughter, Mrs. Curvin Mickle, Cashtown; three grandchildren and these brothers and sisters, Ira Sharrah, Hanover; Mrs. Herman Bentzel, Hanover R. 5; Harvey Sarrah, Biglerville R. D.; Mrs. Floyd Kump, Cashtown; John Sharrah, Cashtown; James Sharrah, McKnightstown; Mrs. Donald Sponseller, Biglerville, and Mrs. Harold Deardorff, Fairfield R. D.

Funeral services Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bender Funeral Home with the Rev. Henry Early officiating. Interment in Flohr's Cemetery. Friends may call Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the funeral home here.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN PLAN INSTALLATION

It was announced Monday evening at a meeting of the Adams County Women's Democratic Club in the Adams Electric Cooperative building here that the installation of officers will be held at the April 22 meeting. Mrs. Marie J. Harbaugh presided Monday evening.

Board members of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Women's Democratic Clubs will come here to conduct the installation. Mrs. Guy Swope, Harrisburg, is regional director for this area.

It was announced that the state convention of Democratic Women's Clubs will be held at the Hershey Hotel May 8 and 9. Delegates from this county will be Mrs. Ryland Robinson, New Oxford, and Mrs. Edna Sneering, McSherrystown. The president will attend and many club members expect to attend some of the sessions.

REJECT TAX PROPOSAL

It was decided to hold the county club's annual card party in September and a food sale in October. (Continued On Page 3)

THRUSH TALKS TO LIONS ON PA. HUNTING

The chief problem of the Pennsylvania hunter is not the game supply, the cost of the license or state regulations but the availability of land open to hunting, Adams County Game Protector Homer Thrush told Gettysburg Lions Monday evening.

Speaking at the club's weekly dinner session at the VFW home, Thrush said a misbehaving minority of hunters have led more and more farmers to post their land against hunting. He also noted that farm herds and equipment have mounted in value and farmers are unwilling to expose them to hunters.

Mr. Thrush said that hunting (Continued On Page 3)

BLOOM TO SPEAK AT GOP MEETING

George I. Bloom, secretary of the commonwealth, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Adams County Republican Committee, workers and the general public of all political faiths in the Cashtown fire hall Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Republican candidates for office and current GOP office holders will be introduced.

Bloom is well-known in Adams County. He has spoken here a number of times. He served as private secretary to Governor Edward Martin and after the latter was elected to the U. S. Senate he was his administrative assistant for six years.

When Martin retired from the Senate Bloom became chairman of the state GOP and after Governor Scranton's election he was appointed secretary of the commonwealth.

Refreshments will be served.

GRUBE ELECTED EXALTED RULER OF ELKS LODGE

Paul W. Grube, Gettysburg mail carrier, was elected exalted ruler of the Gettysburg Lodge of Elks at a meeting Monday evening at the Elks Home. He succeeds G. Noel Flynn and will assume his new post at the April session.

Other officers named for the coming year were: Esteemed leading knight, Frank W. Murray; esteemed loyal knight, William G. Shoemaker; esteemed lecturing knight, Eugene R. Hartman; tiler, Allen I. McDonnell; secretary, Raymond E. Menges; treasurer, Herbert L. Oyler; and trustee, Ray M. Hoffman. Murray and Oyler were named delegates to the state convention which will be held at Pittsburgh, and Grube was named delegate to the Grand Lodge convention which will be held in San Francisco.

David Weller and Ivan Collins, both of whom recently retired after many years of service at the Elks home, were honored at a special ceremony following the regular meeting.

Exalted Ruler G. Noel Flynn presided at the lodge meeting. After the meeting Fred G. Pfeiffer, lodge orator, paid tribute to Weller and Collins, Weller who has been affiliated with the local lodge since 1934 and as steward since 1939, and Collins, who was initiated in 1934 and has been employed since that time.

Both men were presented wrist watches.

In making the presentation Pfeiffer said, "In giving this to you the lodge has put you on a high pedestal equal to a past-exalted ruler. You have served faithfully and well for many years."

METEOR SEEN MONDAY

A flaming object, identified by officials of the Federal Aviation Administration as a meteor, was seen by a number of Adams Countians shortly after 10 o'clock Monday evening. It was described as an orange flaming ball, with a blue tail, which appeared to drop out of the sky. The meteor was observed in Philadelphia and as far south as Richmond, Va.

Pilot And Young Coed Are Rescued From Bleak Yukon After Seven Week Ordeal

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory (AP)—A California pilot and an undaunted Brooklyn coed felt their strength flowing back today in a Whitehorse hospital after a seven-week ordeal of hunger and cold in the subzero Canadian north.

They said faith in God brought them through after their plane crashed Feb. 4.

Helen Klaben, 21, and Ralph Flores, 42, a father of six from San Bruno, Calif., said they survived on melted snow for the last six weeks.

"It was water for breakfast, water for lunch and water for dinner," said Miss Klaben, managing to smile for her rescuers although she had a broken, gangrenous right foot and a broken left arm and was gaunt from hunger.

BOTH LOSE WEIGHT

She lost 30 pounds—the heavily bearded Flores lost 40—but Miss Klaben quipped: "That was one good thing about the experience."

POSITION OF DOLLAR TOPIC FOR ROTARIANS

"The International Position of the Dollar" was outlined Monday evening by Dr. M. L. Stokes, of the economics department of Gettysburg College, at the meeting of the Rotary Club in the YWCA.

At the same session the club elected directors for the coming year with the directors to organize and name officers later. The new directors include Rev. Robert MacAskill, C. William Harbaugh, Melvin Sargeant, Calvin Shank, Paul Witt, Frank Ruth, Alexander Griest, Dr. Carroll Voss, Thomas Washburn and Clark Smith. Rev. MacAskill, present vice president of the club, is scheduled for the presidential post.

Dr. Stokes said the international position of the dollar is "one of the problems plaguing the country next in importance to world peace and unemployment. Since the dollar is now the international reserve currency of the world its position is of international importance. Most countries keep part of their reserve in U. S. currency. Norway has approximately 80 per cent of its reserves in U. S. dollars.

TO REGISTER BEGINNERS

All children who are planning to start to school in the Gettysburg Joint School System next September should be registered Thursday.

The registration will be held at the Keefeauver Elementary School 9:11-10 a.m.; 1-3 p.m. and 6-8:30 p.m. Parents must bring the child along with the birth certificate. If the child has been vaccinated, the certificate of successful vaccination will be needed. (Continued On Page 9)

Arrest Countian For Drunken Driving

Robert Storm, 50, McSherrystown, was arrested by Hanover police on a drunken driving charge after his car struck a station wagon parked in Hanover Monday at 3:40 p.m.

Storm was released under $500 bond to await a hearing before Justice of the Peace William Y. Naill, Hanover.

Police estimated damage to the Storm car at $50 and to the parked station wagon, owned by James A. Kessler, Hanover, at $60.

House Okays "Blue-Gray"

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House voted last night to designate U.S. 15 as "The Blue and Gray Highway" in Pennsylvania, but it turned down a bill to give school dieticians teacher tenure.

The Route 15 bill carried, 184-6, and went to the Senate for further action. The road roughly parallels the Susquehanna River in its route from the Maryland state line south of Gettysburg to the New York state line north of Mansfield. Dieticians lost their bid for tenure on a vote of 87-105 that crossed party lines.

SELECT LOCAL GIRL FOR TRIP ABROAD IN AFS

Demaree Deardorff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dardorff, 721 Sunset Ave., is the student named to represent Gettysburg High School for the Students Abroad program of the American Field Service, it was announced at a chapter meeting Monday night. Miss Deardorff, a Junior, picked from a field of 7,000 applicants, including three others from Gettysburg, becomes a semifinalist among 1,800 American selections. Of these, 700 will be placed in a home abroad for the summer of 1963. Final choices will be made by the end of May.

The chapter voted to request two foreign students again next year. Five local families have indicated their willingness to give them homes.

To finance next year's program of two students here and one abroad, at least $300 more is needed, and plans for raising this sum were discussed. Community contributions to the finance committee, headed by James R. Feather, are welcome.

Elderly Man Is Seriously Injured

Clinton H. Steinhauer, 82, Gettysburg R. 2, suffered a possible fracture of the skull and a broken right leg Monday evening at 7:35 o'clock when he was struck by an auto while crossing the Emmitsburg Rd. 2 1/2 miles south of here near his home.

He was removed from the scene in the local firemen's ambulance and admitted as a patient at the Warner Hospital. His condition today was described as serious.

State police said Mr. Steinhauer was crossing the road from west to east when he was struck by a northbound auto operated by Sara H. O. Knechtel, 51, Towanda, N. Y. Damage, mostly to the windshield of the car, was estimated at $100.

ELECT SPEECH THERAPIST FOR COUNTY STAFF

A speech therapist in the county schools for next fall was elected and plans made to conduct another summer school for children of migrant workers at the March meeting of the Adams County Board of School Directors Monday evening.

C. Robert Orndorff, 24, a graduate of the Littlestown High School in the class of 1956, was elected to one of the two speech therapy positions that have gone unfilled for lack of applicants during the current school year. Orndorff, who is a graduate of Shippensburg State College and a veteran of Army duty, is completing work at Columbia University for his master's degree in speech therapy. He will be paid $5,300 for a 10-month term. His election was unanimous.

PLAN SUMMER SCHOOL

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Marcia L. Staub, who has been a secretary in the county superintendent's office for the last year. The appointment by the county commissioners of Mrs. Barbara DeBorde to Mrs. Staub's position at a salary of $2,874 was reported. The county board voted Mrs. DeBorde a supplemental $20 per month on her base salary. The new secretary began work Monday, Mrs. Staub leaves at the end of the week.

Expressing the opinion that last year's summer school for migrants' children, in conjunction with the day care center, "made some contribution to the lives of the children who attended," the county board directed County Superintendent M. Francis Coulson to go ahead with preparations for another summer school this year. Some board members said (Continued On Page 6)

Sorority Elects Helen Emanuel

Helen Emanuel was elected president of the Xi Alpha Chi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority at its meeting Monday evening in the West St. branch of the Gettysburg National Bank.

Barbara Richardson was named vice president; Sandy Pyles, recording secretary; Linda Carbaugh, corresponding secretary, and Helen Spangler, treasurer. Delores McCans was in charge of the program on the theme "Service Activities." Donna Hamers and Edith Riley were hostesses.

The following merit badges were awarded by Glenn Bream, chairman of the troop committee: Jerry Scarpace, safety, public health; Jay Swisher, art; John Strassbaugh, safety, home repairs, public health; Rick Stover, painting, public health, marksmanship; Rick Cogley, public health; Steven Walde, art, sculpturing; John (Continued On Page 5)

Man Who Taught Castro Law Wants To Unite All Cubans To Upset Regime

NEW YORK (AP)—A distinguished-looking man who knew Fidel Castro as a boy and taught him law at Havana University now seeks a union of all Cubans to overthrow the Castro regime.

"Two revolutionary groups cannot overthrow Castro," said Dr. Carlos Marquez Sterling. "Certainly, five groups cannot do it. If all Cubans unite with the same leader and the same program, then the defeat of Castro will be possible—perhaps not in two or three months, but in six months or a year."

Marquez Sterling reportedly has widespread support from within Cuba to be the leader of a unified struggle against Castro, according to some exiles in this country.

WILLING TO LEAD

He has said he would be willing to lead such a struggle—provided his countrymen want him to. "If not," he said, "I would be pleased to support any man acceptable to the Cubans. I have no political ambitions after Castro is overthrown. I seek only the freedom of my country."

At 60, Marquez Sterling can look back on a life of opposition to a series of Cuban governments. In 1933, he fought in the revolution

Two Girls Are Criminally Assaulted Near Oak Ridge; Assailant Had Gun, Knife

Two Gettysburg College coeds, whose names are being withheld by police, were criminally assaulted by an unknown, armed assailant sometime after 7:30 o'clock Monday evening in the vicinity of Oak Ridge.

State and borough police and National Park rangers are looking for a suspect, white, male, about 5 feet 9 inches tall, weighing between 160 and 170 pounds, aged 32 to 35. He is said to be wearing black trousers, white shirt, grey jacket and a wrist watch. He wore no tie. He parts his straight dark brown hair on the left side and carries, presumably, a silver cigarette lighter. He is also described as "having poor grammar." He is believed to be wearing leather soled shoes.

Mrs. Holtzworth Dies Monday At 86

Mrs. Bessie Y. Holtzworth, 86, widow of J. Alfred Holtzworth, 131 N. Washington St., died at the Warner Hospital Monday evening at 9:24 o'clock. She was admitted to the hospital last Friday.

Born in Adams County, she was a daughter of the late Christian and Anna Louise (Swisher) Young. Her husband died January 8, 1958.

She was a member of the Christ Lutheran Church here.

She is survived by one brother, Charles Morris Young, Radnor, Pa., and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services from the Bender Funeral Home Thursday morning at 11 o'clock with the Rev. Herman Stuempeff officiating. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery. There will be no viewing.

BIGLER JUNIOR IN CONTEST TO STUDY ABROAD

Miss Carol Houck, a junior at Biglerville High School, has been selected as a semifinalist for the Americans Abroad Program, sponsored by the American Field Service of New York. The purpose of the program "is for highly selected United States teen-agers to go abroad to further their understanding of another country and also to increase understanding of the United States in other lands," it was explained.

TO TAKE POST AS EDITOR OF DOUBLEDAY CO.

NEW YORK (AP) — Lt. Col. John S. Eisenhower, 42, has resigned from the Army to take a job as an editor for a New York publishing house.

Doubleday & Co. said the son of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will work mainly on history and biography if his resignation from the Army is accepted as expected.

Doubleday & Co. identified itself as Eisenhower's future employer after he had said Monday at his Gettysburg, Pa., home that he planned to take a publishing position.

A spokesman said in Washington that the Army had no information on Eisenhower's plans.

Eisenhower is doing research for his father's two-volume book, "The White House Years."

Eisenhower, a 1944 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, served in Europe in World War II and in Korea. He joined the White House staff in 1958, and when his father's administration ended he undertook a special project with Doubleday to help with his father's book.

Eisenhower has less than 19 years of Army service, and Army authorities said he would not be eligible either for separation pay or retirement benefits which come with retirement on completion of 20 years of service.

CONSTITUTION CHANGE URGED

"The present state constitution became effective in January, 1874, and has served its purpose well up to the present," said Atty. John A. MacPhail at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Monday evening at the Lamp Post Tea Room.

Explaining the interest that the Pennsylvania Bar Association has in the workings of the constitution and in the changes that are generally felt to be desirable MacPhail said "the public in general has been poorly informed or apathetic, so that interest and education need to be imparted to the citizenry."

He said, "Our state constitution is our basic and fundamental legal structure for the state, as our federal constitution is the basis for our nation but, when the two documents are compared the state constitution is found to have more than twice the number of articles and more than twice the number of amendments found in the federal constitution."

"This condition," he continued, "causes vagueness and differences in interpretation and also leads to unworkable conditions. It even leads to disregard and evasion of constitutional requirements which, in turn, leads to waste of time and money."

"The important matter before the public is not how changes are to be made in our constitution but that they be made and, to do this, prejudice and local self-interests must be mitigated and the welfare of the public as a whole must be the dominant factor."

"Fourteen committees of the Pennsylvania Bar Association have been working on this matter for over a year and will propose recommendations to the legislature so that action may be taken by 1965. In Adams County we have been fortunate that difficulties with the constitution have been minor ones, but the question is whether we shall always be so fortunate."

President Charles W. Pentz presided at the meeting.

President Charles W. Pentz presided at the meeting.

MacPhail said "the public in general has been poorly informed or apathetic, so that interest and education need to be imparted to the citizenry."

He said, "Our state constitution is our basic and fundamental legal structure for the state, as our federal constitution is the basis for our nation but, when the two documents are compared the state constitution is found to have more than twice the number of articles and more than twice the number of amendments found in the federal constitution."

"This condition," he continued, "causes vagueness and differences in interpretation and also leads to unworkable conditions. It even leads to disregard and evasion of constitutional requirements which, in turn, leads to waste of time and money."

"The important matter before the public is not how changes are to be made in our constitution but that they be made and, to do this, prejudice and local self-interests must be mitigated and the welfare of the public as a whole must be the dominant factor."

"Fourteen committees of the Pennsylvania Bar Association have been working on this matter for over a year and will propose recommendations to the legislature so that action may be taken by 1965. In Adams County we have been fortunate that difficulties with the constitution have been minor ones, but the question is whether we shall always be so fortunate."

Lenten Thought For Today

"Why do you call me 'Lord, Lord,' and do not the things I tell you?" Luke 6:46

There is a built-in danger in great emphasis on the spiritual life during Lent. That danger is the temptation to self-satisfaction that can result from much prayer and little practice, much devotion and little discipline. Oswald Chambers said, "We cannot stay on the mount of transfiguration, but we must obey the light we received there; we must act it out."

This does not minimize the place of prayer and devotion, Bible reading and hymn singing, burning a candle and gazing on the cross. These are necessary aids to most of us. They help us keep the vision of God and His will before us. Without drawing apart there would be no vision, no mountain top experience.

The visions and prayers of Jesus Christ sought fulfillment in His daily labors among men. Prayer and practice were teammates. His personal devotion was backed up by the discipline of daily work among men.

The world suffers from lack of fervent prayer; but as we pray God may be pointing the way for us to help answer our prayers. Then we must act.

Answer Four Fire Calls In Two Hours

The Vigilant Hose Company of Emmitsburg answered four alarms in less than two hours Monday afternoon.

The first came at 3 p.m. and was a grass fire in an alley at the rear of the H.O. Toor Shoe factory. At 3:30 p.m. they were called to a fire at the dump at St. Joseph College. While they were at that fire, they were called to a blaze at the former Mannie Florence farm along the Mountain Rd. The final call came at 4:30 o'clock and was a grass fire along the Taneytown Rd.

TRADING IS ACTIVE

NEW YORK (AP) — Savings-and-loans continued strong in a generally higher stock market early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

Gains of key stocks went from fractions to a point or so, with most changes narrow.

Savings-and-loan strength was based on favorable comment and other developments including good prospects for home building. Autos, oils, mail order-retails and selected stocks in other groups helped give the market a definitely higher trend, although there were ragged spots among aerospace issues, steels, drugs, and nonferrous metals.

3-COUNTY REA COOPERATIVE TO MEET HERE

The Adams Electric Co-operative Inc. has completed plans for its 21st annual membership meeting in the Gettysburg Junior High School on Saturday.

The co-operative was organized in 1940, with 300 members. Today, its membership numbers 7,385 served electricity from their own distribution system, consisting of 11 substations and 1,561 miles of rural distribution lines.

Adams Electric Co-operative brings central station electric service to 3,100 members in Adams County; 2,250 members in York County and 2,038 members in Cumberland and Franklin Counties.

Other than during the war years, the membership has met annually to elect directors and conduct such other business that cannot be delegated to the Board of Directors.

A free lunch will be served in the junior high school cafeteria from 11 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. by the Gettysburg Band Parents' Club. Following lunch, the business meeting will be called to order by President Benjamin E. Gayman, Newville.

This meeting will include election of three directors to serve on the board for three years, reports from the board of directors and the manager and a visual-aid program will be presented.

The three directors whose terms are expiring are Howard Schwartz Littlestown R. 1, in Zone 3; Elmer Lauer, Dover R. 3, in Zone 4, and President Gayman in Zone 9. Each has been nominated for re-election but each has opposition. In Zone 3 the other nominee is John H. Haar, New Oxford R. 1. In Zone 4 the other nominee is George Lighty, East Berlin R. 1, and in Zone 9 the other candidate is George Wickard, Newville R. 3.

George Bailey, a professional entertainer, who has made more than 2,000 public appearances all over the United States, will present a program of magic, memory and music.

DEMOCRATIC

A newspaper article containing a statement by Gov. Scranton on a proposed sales tax on clothing and additional taxes on other items "was read, discussed and rejected." Members were asked to write their state representative and senator to protest tax increases. The members were told "no thought was given to the Pennsylvania taxpayer when increased salaries were given those taking over the running of the state government in January and so many new jobs created and more money paid out."

Four new members were added to the club. Mrs. Laura Cratin, McSherrystown, received the guest package. Mrs. Harbaugh thanked members for returning the questionnaire sent them in the last week. Refreshments were served after adjournment.

"YOU'RE GETTING OLD"

When you shut your ears to laughter . . . and the noise of kids at play . . . you are fast becoming aged . . . yes, you're really on the way . . . when you cease to find the sunshine . . . even though the skies are clear . . . you are living in a whirlpool . . . engulfed in doubt and fear . . . when little things disturb you . . . causing you to rant and rave . . . it's time to sit and ponder . . . and take leave from your dark cave . . . years alone won't make you aged . . . some get old while they're still young . . . it's a pessimistic outlook . . . that makes you remain unsung . . . so don't shut your ears to laughter . . . laugh at life, be brave and bold . . . and you will never show the signs . . . that say, "you're getting old."

POSITION OF

In 12 years the monetary stock of gold in the United States has declined from 24 billion to 16 billion and many fear that the United States will have to revalue its dollar in relation to gold as it did once before in the 1930s.

"With the exception of 1957 we have had since 1949 a deficit in our balance of trade. The question is how long this can continue without causing a change in the position of the dollar."

"The ultimate base of the American dollar is gold. After World War II, there was a dollar shortage in other countries. Now the spectacular recovery of Europe has led to a dollar surplus. With these surplus dollars those holding them can claim gold or they can invest in U. S. bonds, or deposit the dollars here."

INVOLVED PROBLEM
"If the overseas investors should lose faith in the dollar, they would sell the U. S. bonds they hold, or liquidate their assets here, converting them to gold and thus there could be a run on the dollar."

"While the U. S. has exported more than it has imported year after year, the great amount of foreign aid, tourists going abroad and the cost of maintaining military bases overseas have given the U. S. an unfavorable balance of trade."

"Higher interest rates for securities abroad has helped cause a flow of dollars overseas. If we should lower our interest rates it would harm the international position of the dollar by causing a greater flow of investment abroad and making our balance of payments worse."

GOING TO CONFERENCE
"European central banks have helped the situation by lowering interest rates in the effort to strengthen the dollar. We also have taken some steps, by encouraging European countries to spend more of their foreign aid in this country, by encouraging foreign investment here and by encouraging foreigners to visit here as tourists."

"We must also find ways to reduce the cost of production in order to meet the competition of the Common Market and Japan and export more. We must also seek to balance our budget and persuade our friends overseas to shoulder a larger share of the international burden of aid, both economic and military."

"There are many steps to be taken and some are already underway, but we must within the next year or so change the balance of trade or the dollar will be in great difficulty."

Thomas Washburn and President Clark Smith reported "quite a number" of the local Rotarians plan to attend the district Rotary conference at Lancaster March 30 and April 1.

Mrs. Dillon To Be Buried On Thursday

two chaplains are expected in Gettysburg by bus on July 11 to 13. They will visit the Cyclorama, and the Lions Club and the Exchange Club will each provide one meal. Those who wish to house a foreign student during this two-day stay should call Mrs. George M. Gilbert, ED 4-1025.

Miss N. Louise Ramer, chapter president, announced that Ana Maria Silva and Mehmet Bayram, the current foreign students, submit "weekly requests" to remain in Gettysburg for the Centennial celebration in July, rather than embark on the customary bus trip to other parts of the country.

THREE RESIGN
Mrs. L. S. Long, Mrs. Alfred LeVan, and Kenneth Foust have resigned from the local committee, and new names were considered.

Mrs. Harry Biesecker, Cash-town, who housed an Indonesian student last year, reported on a district AFS meeting held in Waynesboro recently.

Four new countries, have been added to the AFS list: Jordan, Cyprus, Paraguay and Nicaragua, Egypt, which dropped membership for a while, has been readmitted. The 50th anniversary of the AFS program will be held in New York City this summer.

Hanover Shoe Firm Files Suit In Court

Hanover Shoe Farms Inc., Hanover R. 4, has brought an action in assumpsit against Joseph J. and Florence Asparro, New York City, formerly of Elmhurst, Long Island, alleging they owe the farm $1,332 for the breeding and care of a black mare named "Shadydale Triad."

According to the complaint in assumpsit and a writ of foreign attachment made on the horse and "property of Joseph J. and Florence Asparro" simultaneously, the Asparros on September 25, 1961, made arrangements for "Shadydale Triad" to be bred to "Newport Dream" owned by Hanover Shoe Farm. The stud fee was to be $500 and the care and board of the mare $60 a month plus any other expenses.

The mare was brought to the farm January 17, 1962, bred, and remains at the farm to the present time.

The law firms of Laird and Buchen, Hanover, and Bulleit and Bulleit, Gettysburg represent the Hanover Shoe Farms.

FARM IS SOLD

EMPLOYMENT IS DISCUSSED

A discussion of the employment situation in upper Adams County was held at the Monday evening session of the Upper Adams County Study Group in the Bendersville National Bank.

Donald Tyson presented a paper on the subject in which he said the problem of unemployment in upper county areas is so small it requires little attention. However, employment problems during the harvest period has been a matter of considerable work, worry and investment in recent years although the problem has been met on each occasion. Considerable automation may be ahead in this area and employment problems probably need no great attention here, he said.

He pointed to under-employment that has the effect of forcing the better trained and more ambitious young people to distant areas of opportunities for which they are fitted. He noted that the "community loses" when large sums are invested in the training of young people who have to leave the community for superior jobs. "Here, then, is our real problem," he said.

Allen S. Stauffer of the Musselman company described employment policies of his company in which employees are trained for advancement in the ranks.

The next meeting will be held April 9 when local government will be discussed by Henry Semke, York Springs.

THRUSH TALKS

In this state "in the good old days" was a myth. In 1895 conditions had reached the point where the carrier pigeon was extinct and deer and bear were disappearing. The State Game Commission was formed as a conservation measure and the first hunting license was issued in this state in 1913.

He said in 1915, 1,500 legal deer were killed in this state as compared to an average of more than 75,000 in recent years. Thrush said Pennsylvania issues the largest number of hunting licenses although it is third in population and 33rd in land area. He said it ranks 43rd in the nation in the cost of hunting licenses which ranged downward from Downward from Florida's high of $33. He said an increase in the hunting license cost is needed or the state Game Commission's program will have to be curtailed. He said the state has six game farms and more than a million acres in leased farm-game programs.

Thrush concluded by showing a color film on contour farming in York County.

President Kenneth Dengler presided at the meeting with about 50 members and guests attending.

MANY ATTEND EUB SERVICES

The Sunday morning service of the evangelistic crusade being held in the Centenary EUB Church, Biglerville, was attended by 377. There were 352 in attendance at the evening service. Twenty-six decisions for Christ have been recorded in the campaign. Services continue nightly through March 31 at 7:30 p.m. Sunday morning worship service will be held at 9:30 a.m.

Youth Night was observed Monday night with a delegation of 100 present from the Youth Fellowship. Rev. Arnold Willis, evangelist from Huntingdon, W. Va., spoke on "Blessed Assurance."

Rev. Willis will speak on the following subjects: Tonight, Last Covenant; Wednesday, Conditions For Answered Prayer; Thursday, Spiritual Victory; Friday, Where Do We Go From Here; Saturday, Climbing Into Hell; Sunday at 9:30 a.m. — Suffering Saviour; Sunday closing service at 7:30 p.m. Pan-O-Rama of Prophecy, preached from a Bible chart. A free copy of the chart will be given to all who attend.

Family night will be observed on Friday night. Each family with all members present will receive a family worship picture from the Christian Home League. A special portrait will be given to the largest family present.

Music will be provided nightly by the Singing Smiths from York, the Crusade Choir, and Rev. Willis. The Jacobs Brothers quartet will be featured at the Saturday and Sunday services.

Arm Caught In Washing Machine

Robert B. Myers, 4, Gardners R. 1, is reported in a satisfactory condition at the Carlisle Hospital where he was admitted after his arm became caught in a washing machine.

Mary Smith, 58, Gardners R. 2, received treatment Sunday at the Carlisle Hospital for a fractured leg sustained in a fall.

EXTINGUISHERS STOLEN

Paul Witt, manager of the Gettysburg Motor Lodge, reported to borough police Monday afternoon that during Sunday night someone had stolen two fire extinguishers valued at $50 each from the motel.

SEMINARIAN GETS CALL

The congregation of Trinity Lutheran Church, Chambersburg, at a special meeting Sunday directed its council to extend a call to a Gettysburg Lutheran Seminary senior to become associate pastor of the church upon his graduation and ordination later this spring.

The call will be extended to Frederick B. Zikell, who has been serving Trinity as a student assistant for the past several months. He will succeed the Rev. Cleon F. Prowell, who left Trinity and Chambersburg on Jan. 31 to assume the pastorate of a Lutheran Church in Steelton.

SCOUTERS TO MEET

The Black Walnut Boy Scout District committee will meet April 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the West St. branch of the Gettysburg National Bank, Chairman Melvin S. Worley has announced.

INITIATION AT MOOSE SUNDAY ATTRACTS 150

One hundred fifty were present Sunday afternoon for the initiation held at the local Moose lodge on York St.

Former Congressman Robert H. Mollohan, Fairmont, W. Va., now junior supreme governor of the Loyal Order of Moose, was the principal speaker. He praised the officers of the local lodge for already exceeding the lodge's goal of 150 new members by June 30 and for accepting a goal of an additional 50 members by that time.

He praised the 17 new members for whom the first degree of the Moose was exemplified Sunday afternoon by the local lodge degree team headed by John W. Sanders. Robert Weikert, Gettysburg R. 4, represented the class of new members for the ritual work.

Outlining various activities carried out by Moose lodges through the nation he noted that the lodges internationally have continued as their first thought and first responsibility maintenance of the Moose home for children of deceased members, Mooseheart in Illinois, and the home in Florida for aged members, Moosehaven.

Chester Steffin, Selingsgrove, state Moose director, introduced the speaker.

Women of the Moose and wives of the candidates joined the Moose members for the talk following the initiation.

J. Alfred Gilbert provided organ music during and following a buffet dinner.

To Hold Antique Show At Hanover

The Gettysburg Area Antique Dealers' Association met at the home of John Byers, Littlestown, with President Selmar H. Hess presiding.

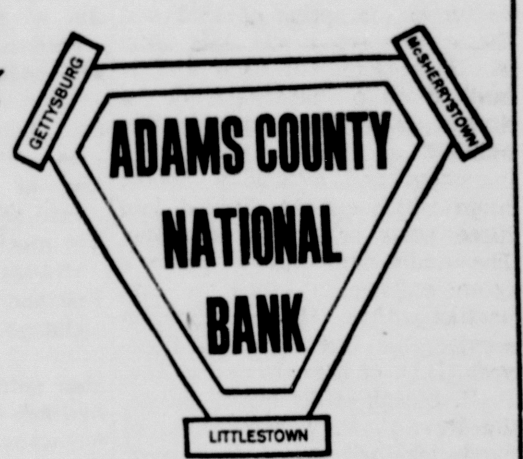

Plans were completed for the Hanover antique show to be held May 20 and 21 at Friendship fire hall, Pennville.

Donations were made to the Salvation Army, heart fund and cerebral palsy fund in Gettysburg and the Red Cross, cancer fund and muscular dystrophy in Hanover. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Dedicate New Church Edifice:

The fine new church structure erected by St. Paul's Reformed congregation at New Oxford was dedicated on Sunday with appropriate services which were held in the presence of large audiences. Dr. W. A. Korn is the pastor of the church. St. Paul's congregation dates its origin to 1822 when a union church building was erected on the location it now occupies. In 1861 the second building was erected during the pastorate of Rev. Emanuel H. Hoffheins. This was remodeled and the side galleries removed and a chapel built to it in 1889 under the pastorate of Rev. W. H. Herbert. The work of demolition of this structure began May 14, 1912. The men who ministered here during the period of the building erected in 1881 were Revs. E. H. Hoffheins, W. F. P. Davis, A. Spangler, W. F. Colliflower, D. U. Wolf, W. H. Herbert, P. E. Heimer, S. P. Mauger and the present pastor since March 1, 1907. The present building was begun in the spring of 1912 and the corner stone was laid July 28. It is Gothic in style and is built of white limestone from the Stacey & Wilton quarries. The building is constructed with a basement and a Sunday School room which can be divided into three parts or thrown into one. The auditorium has a pastor's room and organ space in connection with it. At the dedication service, the Rev. Geo. W. Richards, D.D. of Lancaster, the Rev. O. H. Strunk of Schuylkill Haven, the Rev. C. E. Wehler, D.D., of Frederick and others, took part.

"Senator" Burned Out: William A. Scott, Esq., better known as "Senator" Scott, awoke in his home near Iron Springs this morning at four o'clock to find the building in flames and burning embers falling on his bed. Mr. Scott had retired at his usual time Monday night and all was well. His discovery at the early hour this morning that his home was on fire was just in time to allow him to escape from the burning structure for in a few more minutes he would have been burned to death. As it was, he lost all his clothing and furniture and is left without "house or home." It is supposed that the fire was caused by an overheated stove which ignited woodwork and other inflammable material. The many acquaintances of the "senator" will regret to learn of his misfortune.

Cashtown: There will be quite a lot of changing around in this place this spring. G. J. Martz from the Schwartz farm to Gettysburg; James Andrew will move on the property vacated by Mr. Martz; Howard Cook will move to the S. P. Stover farm; C. A. Heiges will move to Gettysburg. As the time is near they are making ready to move.

Church Buys Marble Hall: Marble Hall, a building which has possibly been used for more separate purposes than any structure now in Gettysburg, was this morning sold to the newly organized St. John's Baptist congregation and will be converted from its present state for use as church and Sunday School. The congregation bought it from C. B. Tate for $420. Mr. Tate bought the building for $350 only last Saturday at public sale from the Gettysburg Social Club. The "edifice" is located in the Third Ward near Long Lane and was first used as a colored church and school building. It was then the only colored church in the town but later the two congregations came into existence and each had its own house of worship as at present. The school authorities found another building for the colored school and the old house became a dwelling. Several families lived in it and some years ago it went into other hands. Under the name of

Today's Talk

THINGS YOU CAN DO
What a lot of prosaic folk there are in the world!

They just sit around and wait for the millennium, or for their "ship to come in," or for a fortune to drop into their laps, or for Mr. Opportunity to whistle in their ears (until the old fellow has worn his whistle out) thinking they have played a joke on him, and that he will soon turn to them and hand them his keys to the kingdoms of the world.

Well, if you are that sort, things will not happen for you. Never!

But what a lot of things there are that anybody can do to his or her heart's content! And grow rich through doing them. Simple things. Easy things. Useful things.

Here are a few:
Make it a point to smile thirty-six times every day, without fail. Go out of your way to do one helpful act for somebody else — every day. Never speak ill of anybody. Walk a lot out in the open, especially away from the city — out where there are trees and open spaces and where birds hold year-round concerts.

Take fifteen minutes of exercise every day, rain, snow, or pitchforks. Eat as little as you can of wholesome food and chew it a long time. Be courteous to everyone — rich or poor, pedigreed or just plain Jones-like.

Read something inspiring every day. From the books of those who have lived and who went into the back door of life and came out at the front door.

Make an exhaustive study of love in all its forms and then accumulate it as you would gold. Then give it away far and wide. Be a billion love-inaire! Make people want you around!

Any one of these suggestions, worked out, is worth while. Don't you think so?

Just Folks

STRANGE MEN

These things are strange in human kind:

Fault with their fellow-men they'll find,

But for their own shortcomings claim

Upon ill-luck lies all the blame.

A victory won is theirs by right

Of knowledge, courage, skill and might,

But let them fail and they'll produce

And endless wailing of excuse.

Men think themselves divine to be

And in themselves small fault they see,

Yet much they note in others strange,

Evil and weak, which they would change.

Men unto God in prayer will go

And ask His help in times of woe,

But when His blessings richly fall

They'll think their strength has earned them all.

"Marble Hall" it continued for some time to be the gathering place for a number of pleasure loving Gettysburgians and numerous functions of more or less interest to citizens generally were held there. The building was sold Saturday together with much equipment for camping purposes. Mr. Tate's possession of the structure continued for but a short time, negotiations for its purchase by St. John's congregation began started a few hours afterward and the deal was closed this morning.

Brief Items: Rev. L. Dow Ott has been returned as pastor of the Gettysburg and New Oxford Methodist charge. Work at carving the granite work on the new federal building was started on Tuesday morning. Compressed air is used largely in the work which will require some weeks to complete. The residence of Wilson A. Bream on Broadway is rapidly nearly completion and will be ready for occupancy about April 1st. M. K. Eckert has moved into his recently completed residence on Springs Avenue. Miss Bessie Baugher gave a birthday party for Robert Hartley on Wednesday evening. The following were present: Ida Hartley, Justine Hartley, Edwards Buehler, Arthur Buehler, Huber Blocher, Mahlon Hartley, Henry Bream, James Gilliland, Lloyd Sharetts, George B. ## DESCRIBES FHA HOUSING PLANS FOR AGING FOLK

At a meeting of the Adams and York County rural areas development-technical action panels, Daniel A. Paddock, Gettysburg, said: "Senior citizens over 62 years of age constitute the fastest growing segment of the nation's population. They now number more than 21,000,000 individuals. By 1980 this statistic is expected to stand at 30,000,000.

"While the general population of the country increased 19 per cent between 1950 and 1960, senior citizen population increased 35 per cent, and the age group 35 years or older increased an astonishing 61 per cent. New life expectancy tabulations indicate the many senior citizens will live 20 or more years beyond retirement age.

"More than one-third of this senior citizen population lives in rural areas.

3 SPECIAL ADVANTAGES

"These are some of the bedrock facts behind the vigorous program of providing suitable housing for senior citizens in rural areas which has been launched by the United States Department of Agriculture through loans made by the Farmers Home Administration. The speed with which this program is being implemented is indicated by the fact that President Kennedy signed the Senior Citizens Housing Act into law on September 28, 1962, and the first loan under its provisions was closed on October 30, 1962, scarcely more than a month later."

Mr. Paddock continued: "Surveys indicate that the senior citizens in rural areas are usually in low income brackets. About half have incomes of less than $2,000 annually and many have incomes of less than $1,000 a year. They have unique social, economic and health problems. Studies indicate that 80 per cent of these elderly people live in homes 30 years old and half of them live in homes 50 or more years old.

"Under the Senior Citizens Housing Act, persons 62 years of age and over have three special advantages in obtaining loans: First, they may now buy previously occupied existing housing as well as build or improve their homes. Second, they can use a loan to finance the cost of the building site as well as the dwelling; younger families must own the land on which to build a home before they can obtain a loan. Third, when senior citizens do not have enough repayment ability, they may use co-signers to assume loan payments. The loans bear interest at the rate of four per cent, and may be paid back over a period not to exceed 33 years.

"Loans are not made under this amended legislation to applicants who can obtain the needed credit from other sources.

DECENT, SAFE, SANITARY

"The senior citizens' housing program will make an important and direct contribution to rural areas development. Construction will provide jobs for carpenters, electricians, bricklayers, plumbers and others in the building trades. Local businessmen will benefit from increased sales of building materials, appliances and accessories.

"The challenge of providing modern, safe housing for senior citizens in rural areas is extensive. Many of the houses they occupy are old and termite-ridden. They lack bathrooms and water for drinking and cooking has to be carried from distant wells. Ricketty steps, drafty rooms and over-loaded electric wiring constitute health and safety hazards. It is estimated that 29 per cent of the houses in rural areas either need major repairs or are so dilapidated that they should be replaced. While senior citizens do not occupy all of this substandard housing, their proportionate occupancy is greater than their proportionate numbers in the rural communities."

Mr. Paddock, who is Farmers Home Administration county supervisor, said: "We want to help our senior citizens get decent, safe and sanitary housing." Additional information may be obtained by writing the Farmers Home Administration, Post Office Box 308, Gettysburg.

The first official American flag was displayed on Prospect Hill, January 1, 1776.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
YOU IN PRINT. In the Easter parade there's going to be a lot of news made by print fashions. They are that irresistible!

Whether used in suits, coats, costumes, dresses or blouses, prints have never looked so fresh and handsome. Nor have they ever achieved so much diversification. Prints are transferred to fabrics of every fiber. The choice of patterns is so great that no lovely print will be able to claim she "just can't find a becoming print."

How's this for a range of patterns? Dots from pin to saucer size; stripes, checks and plaids so small you can hardly see them at all, and so bold you can't miss them a block away; florals in miniature, real and jungle dimensions; abstracts, both splashy and shadowy.

What's your preference? If your aim is flattery, better let your answer be guided by the laws of proportion — the relation of a print's size to your own.

Interpreted that means: A tall, willowy figure is needed carry off large, splashy patterns. For a petite, a small but definite print can be recommended. Heavy, short figures are minimized by small, shadowy motifs. Conservative, well-spaced designs suit the tall, full figure. Moderately sized and spaced, a print is just right for the average stature.

Now that flattery is figured for you, why not break out in print?

It would set the stage for a gay fashion mood at this season—and the coming summer.

FAA PROBING FATAL CRASH

MILLVILLE, N.J. (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency begins an investigation today to determine why a twin-engine airplane crashed in nearby cranberry bogs Sunday afternoon fatally injuring a Pennsylvania businessman.

The crash cost the life of 42-year-old James Schmidt of Broomall, Pa., who was piloting the plane, and badly injured two other passengers in the six-seater Beechcraft.

The wreckage was found shortly after 11 a.m. Monday, about 18 hours after the plane crashed. Schmidt died in Millville Hospital Monday night.

Robert Dougherty, 33, of Dresher, Pa., underwent surgery and was reported in poor condition, suffering from a fractured spine, head injuries, a fractured pelvis, fractured left leg and possible internal injuries.

William J. Deveney, 46, of Folcroft, Pa., who tramped a mile through the woods and swampland to get help, was reported in fair condition with a fractured spine and fractured ribs.

A statewide system of community colleges has received its first big push in the 1963 General Assembly. Rep. Edwin D. Eshleman, chairman of the House Education Committee, called for consideration a community college bill, while the Scranton administration worked on a similar program of its own.

Sen. Marvin V. Keller says if the General Assembly approves a senatorial reapportionment bill to go into effect next year, only delegations from odd-numbered districts could be cut. He explains that only senators from the odd-numbered districts are up for reelection in 1964; it is his understanding that a senator cannot be eliminated until the end of his term.

Gov. Scranton is expected to ask the legislature next week to place a constitutional convention referendum on the November ballot. Similar referendums have been rejected five times since adoption of the present state constitution in 1874.

MANY ATTEND MISSION EVENT

A large congregation attended the mission service Monday evening in St. Aloysius Catholic Church. The opening instruction was on confession by the Rev. Fr. Stanley, S.J., guest missionary, followed with the Rosary led by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. John E. Metz; hymn, "Come Holy Ghost"; sermon on "Sin and Evil," Father Stanley; congregational hymn; Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The mission service will continue this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Local students at Albright College, Reading, spending the spring vacation at their respective homes are: Donald Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bittle M. Jones, W. Myrtle St.; Paul Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Bowman, Prince St.; and Rodney Sponseller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sponseller, near town.

Karl Gass was leader at the meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of Christ United Church of Christ held on Sunday at the church. The program was as follows: Call to worship, Psalm 100 in unison; group hymns, accompanied by Nancy Koons; prayer, the Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor; Scripture, Dorothy Gerriek, who also reported as secretary; offertory piano solo, Nancy Koons; topic, "The Beginning of God," discussed by Donald L. Wolfe; group hymns; business period in charge of Donald Wolfe; Lord's Prayer and C. E. benediction in unison. The society will meet again next Sunday at 7 p.m.

YOUTH MEETINGS HELD

"Evening Hymn" was sung as the opening at the meeting of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Centenary Church held on Sunday evening. Rebecca Harner and Debbie Mitz were leaders, and the former presented the story of Jonah. The readers were Dianne and David Byers and Earl Gregg. A question and answer period followed. Reports were heard from David Byers, treasurer, and Mrs. Andrew Gregg, acting secretary. The Rev. William R. Jones, pastor, will present the topic "Play and Grow Tall" at the meeting at 6 p.m. next Sunday.

"Blow Up or Grow Up" was the theme of the topic discussed by Steven Renner at the meeting of the Luther League of St. John's Church on Sunday evening. The Scripture was read by Carl Gentzler, followed with prayer by the pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns. Dale Bair, president, was in charge of the business and appointed Sally Sheetz to be leader for the meeting at 6 p.m. next Sunday.

A combined meeting of the Junior High and Senior High Youth Fellowship of Redeemer's United Church of Christ was held on Sunday evening in the church social hall. The program was in charge of the pastor, the Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh, and he read some of his favorite poems. A colored film on the state of New York was shown. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Flinchbaugh. The date of the next meeting of the youth group was announced later.

Bullets Anticipate Good Track Season With Eleven Lettermen; Open April 2

Gettysburg College will inaugurate a 10-meet track schedule Tuesday, April 2, when it tangles with Mt. St. Mary's in Emmitsburg, Md.

Coach Harold Glad, starting his third season at the Bullet helm, sailed through the 1962 campaign with a 7-2 record, including five dual meet victories and two tri-meet triumphs. Eleven lettermen will be on hand for the initial meet.

Gettysburg will send a strong track team into competition but its field events may be a shade under par due to a lack of experience and depth. Tom Crist, Gettysburg; Art Cummins, Bound Brook, N.J.; and Connie Snyder, Philadelphia, will give the Bullets three strong dash men. Rodger Malehorn, Pete Herslow and Jerry Staub will handle the middle distance while record holders Ed Salmon and Jim Lombardi will team with sophomore Roger Eckert in the mile and two mile runs. Junior Bob Linders, former New Jersey high school state star, will bolster the 800, mile and two-mile events.

Harry Buzzard, Williamsport, will head the field of hurdlers which will include Walt Kehoe, Maywood, N.J.; Jim Rein, Drexel Hill, and Tony Presogna, Curwensville.

OTHER TOP CANDIDATES

Double letter winner Dick Clower, Roanoke, Va., will top the list of javelin throwers backed by sophomore Bob Straub and Dave vom Lehn. Lane Kneeder, Lansdale, is the leading contender in the high jump while Gil Smith, Red Lion, will anchor his list of shot put and discus men. Lettermen Bob Sassaman, York, and Rich Strunk, Baldwin, N.Y., will carry the pole vaulting load.

The one major problem will be the broad jump in which there will be no veterans taking part. Senior Kirby Kliek has shown improvement and will receive some help from Chris Hayden, a sophomore from South Salem, N.Y. It is also possible that Kneeder will fill in when needed.

The schedule:
April 2, Mt. St. Mary's, away; 6, Temple, home; 17, Lafayette, home; 20, F. and M., Dickinson, home; 23, John Hopkins, Albright at Baltimore; 25, Amreican U., away; 29, Shippensburg State, away; May 1, Juniata, away; 4, Lehigh, Muhlenberg at Bethlehem; 7, Bucknell, home; 10-11, Middle Atlantic at LaSalle.

WEST'S CAGE COACH FEARS BIG EAST FIVE

By KESLO STURGEON
Associated Press Sports Writer
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Cliff Wells, coach of the West team in this Saturday's East-West college All-Star basketball game, knows how David felt when he went out to fight Goliath.

Wells' team faces the task of stopping the likes of All-Americans Art Heyman of Duke and Jerry Harkness of Chicago Loyola, plus such performers as Tom Thacker of Cincinnati, Rod Thorn of West Virginia, Nate Thurmond of Bowling Green and Jimmy Ray of Indiana.

"The only thing I can promise you is that I won't stall against this great team," Wells quipped, "but it sure beats me as to how we'll stop them."

SCORING CHAMP

The West team will be headed by two fine performers from the Rocky Mountain area—Big Eight scoring champion Ken Charlton of Colorado and Bill Green, the nation's third ranking individual scorer this past season from Colorado State.

"I think the key to beating a team made up of Heyman, Thorn, Harkness, Thurmond and Thacker will be defense," said Wells, who just retired as head basketball coach at Tulane.

Harold Anderson, who will handle the East team, scoffs at the favorite's role.

"This game has to be rated a toss-up," Anderson said. "When you pick the 10 best seniors from each section of the country to play, you've got two evenly matched teams."

The West probably will start Charlton, Green, Lyle Harger of Houston, Gary Hill of Oklahoma City University and either Willie Brown of Texas Western or Nolen Ellison of Kansas.

The contest is sponsored by the National Association of Basketball Coaches, with proceeds going to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame at Springfield, Mass.

JR. BOWLERS WILL ROLL IN TOURNAMENT

Members of the Gettysburg Junior Bowling League will take part in the 18th annual national amateur tournament by rolling their games Saturday at Edgewood Lanes, Emmitsburg, Md. Parents are invited to attend.

Last year the local Space Patrol, composed of Billie Ann Sentz, Sharyn Van Dyke, Sharon Heister, Joan Shriver and Sharon Cline, won the national title while the Waves, consisting of Joyce Spriggs, Gathy Wwilde, Carole Hincley, Pat Green and Missy Martin, placed second. A total of 16,403 teams took part last year.

The following teams will bowl Saturday morning at 10 o'clock:

The 300s, Harry Hartman, James Rowe, Craig Smith, Paul Miller, David Miller; The Rebels, Dave Eden, Vernon Baker, Hunter Hartman, LeRoy Sheely, Bruce Ferrara; The Strikettes, Pat Green, Linda Smith, Kathy Wilde, Carole Hincley, Linda Thompson; The Sting Rays, John Wright, John Smith, Bill Eden, Gary Reeves, Sam Green; The Misfits, Carl Sprigg, Wayne Kennel, Joe Kennel, Frank Wilde, John Bredendolph; The K.K.'s, Harold Weikert, Rick Jones, Larry Saylor, Gary Hartman, Ken Boyer; The Bees, Barbara Clapper, Bonnie Baker, Darlene Snyder, Linda Cappsaddle, Susann Ferrara; The Pinsplitters, Roxie Gorman, Sharon Heister, Billie Ann Sentz, Shirley Brown, Donna Snyder.

Starting at 2 p.m.—The 5 Aces, David Gorman, Robert Little, Gerald Wisotzkey, Larry Mummert, Joe Althoff; The 200's, Douglas Weikert, Wayne Hill, Jeff Dengler, John Ziegler, Charles Bream; 5 Lassies, Helen Longanecker, Lindy Hershey, Nancy Conner, Cathy Myers, Trudy Timmins; Strikeouts, Colleen Kennel, Janet Fair, Sandra Bollinger, Karen Orwig, Kim Hughes; The Jets, Tom Slusser, Tom Carr, Joe Dengler, Jerre Dengler, Bob Gantz; The Braves, Dan Greenewalt, Gary Bollinger, Billy Timmins, Steve Myers, Curt Musselman; The 10 Pinners, Jim Martin, Ronnie Noble, Gary Hill, Warren Apgar, Butch Alberts; The Falcons, Bud Kropp, Tom Mowery, Jeff Hinkle, Billy Coston, Eric Maitland; The Warriors, Bob Krietz, Jim Williams, Barge Donmoyer, Frances Garlach, Edward Paris; The Spare Queens, Patty McNair, Linda McDonnell, Coleen Mace, Debbie McNair and Lois McDonnell.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:
POLITICAL ATOM: President Kennedy smilingly told a group of French visitors that "It has proved perhaps more difficult to split the atom politically than to split the atom scientifically."

His comment Monday was a direct reference to his philosophical split with French President Charles de Gaulle in January over the U.S.-British proposal to create a multinational nuclear force within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. De Gaulle rejected the plan.

Welcoming teachers and students from the French National War College to the White House, Kennedy added that France and the United States still stand together "in defense of freedom and the West."

POLARIS: Dismantling of the U.S. Jupiter missile bases in Turkey and Italy will begin after arrival in the Mediterranean April 1 of the first submarines equipped with Polaris missiles.

Discussing the timetable, Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said Monday all three Polaris submarines to be dispatched to the area will reach the Mediterranean this year.

FOREIGN AID: Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen thinks the Clay committee's report will help Congress cut up to a billion dollars from President Kennedy's foreign aid program for next year.

"It is clear from the findings of the President's committee that in the near future approximately a $500 million reduction can be made in military assistance and an equal sum in economic assistance," he said.

The committee, headed by retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay, has reported that while the foreign aid program is essential it could be reduced substantially.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of the Senate Finance Committee, also called for a complete reassessment of the program, adding that the time has come "when other free world nations must assume their share of this burden."
STAMP: Demand continues high for the misprint version of the Dag Hammarskjold postage stamp.
Post Office Department officials have told a congressional committee it has ordered 60 million of the misprints to meet a continuing demand.

Yankees And Mets Seek Duke Snider

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The New York Yankees and the New York Mets claimed Duke Snider of the Dodgers as General Manager Buzzie Bavasi placed the veteran outfielder on waivers Monday.

Bavasi said he would deal only with the Mets, however. He can withdraw Snider's name within 48 hours and then try to negotiate with the Mets for more than the waiver price, which is $20,000.

The Dodgers hope to double that for the 36-year-old slugger.

MAYS SELECTS E. BLACKWELL BEST PITCHER

By JOE REICHLER
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Someone asked Willie Mays today to name the pitcher he would least like to hit again.

"You mean now or ever since I've been in the league?" he asked.

"Both," the brilliant center fielder of the San Francisco Giants was told.

"The toughest pitcher I ever faced was Ewell Blackwell, who used to pitch for the Cincinnati Reds," said Willie. "I couldn't hit him to save my life. They said he was nearly through when I hit against him. Man, I'd hate to be up there trying to hit him when he was in his prime."

ACCIDENTAL HITS

"Maybe I got one or two hits off him but it had to be an accident. He'd wind that long right arm of his behind his back, then shoot the ball out sideways like, from third base. I'd keep looking for the ball but I never was able to pick it up."

What about today's pitchers?
"Don Drysdale of the Dodgers gives me the most trouble," said Willie unhesitatingly. "He doesn't throw exactly like Blackwell but he reminds me of him. He's got the same kind of crossfire pitch, almost by way of third base."

"Like Blackie, Drysdale crowds you a lot. Until last year I used to pick up the flight of the ball on Drysdale pretty well. He was a different pitcher last year. He took charge. He quit fighting himself. Before that, if a guy got a base hit, he used to get mad at himself. It didn't fluster him at all last year."

BIDAULT OFF TO PORTUGAL TO PUSH FIGHT

LISBON (AP)—Former French Premier Georges Bidault flew to Portugal early today after West Germany refused to let him continue his campaign to overthrow President Charles de Gaulle, police reported.

He faces a similar ban should he try to stay in Portugal.
Bavarian Interior Minister Heinrich Junker said Bidault left voluntarily. He and an aide, Guy Ribeaud, took a Swiss airline to Zurich under the names of "Auburger" and "Offrey," then boarded a Dutch airliner for Lisbon.

A police spokesman at the Lisbon airport said: "Two men with these names arrived shortly after midnight, but we did not realize they were Bidault and his secretary."

STARTS SEARCH
Their arrival touched off a nationwide search by officials.

Before leaving Germany, Bidault vowed to continue his campaign for the downfall of De Gaulle.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said that "as far as we know Bidault has not entered Portugal under his own name. We do not know whether he has used false documentation to get in and we are checking this side of the story."

The spokesman said that if Bidault if found here "he will not be allowed any political activity during his stay here."

Political and government circles speculated that Bidault may be heading for Latin America. The next plane for Latin America leaves tonight.

TICKETS TO LISBON

The Dutch airliner on which Bidault traveled went on to Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina, but Bidault and Ribeaud had tickets only to Lisbon.

As he prepared to leave Germany, Bidault reportedly told Dutch and German journalists with whom he had been living near Munich:

"I intend to continue my political fight against De Gaulle until freedom in France is restored to the point where I can return to the soil of my own country and continue my political life."

Junker said Bidault's decision to leave Germany was entirely his own. But he said police escorted him to the airport "for his own safety."

MOORE BRAIN DAMAGE WAS "EXCESSIVE"

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A coroner's autopsy shows that Davey Moore suffered three times the amount of brain damage originally indicated by an encephalogram after his fatal fight against Sugar Ramos.

Moore's backward plunge onto the lower strand of the ropes is believed by autopsy surgeons to have caused the massive damage that resulted in his death early Monday. The scores of jolting lefts that Ramos rained to the head and jaw of the featherweight champion Thursday night were described as contributing factors.

Coroner Theodore J. Curphey, reporting the findings of a two-hour autopsy, said there were small hemorrhages and edema of the structures of the brain stem and also "large contusions in the midline of the cerebral hemisphere which were probably one of the major factors in bringing about this man's demise."

FALL CAUSED DAMAGE

In retreating from Ramos' savage attack in the 10th round, Moore plunged backward into the ropes. The back of his neck struck the lower strand near the turnbuckle and his head snapped sharply toward his chest.

This fall, Dr. Curphey said, caused extensive brain damage, but he said blows to the jaw could have been contributing factors. A small hemorrhage was found on the right side of Moore's brain, cuts and contusions were found inside the fighter's lips, and minimum hemorrhages were on the skin of the right temple and around the joint of the right jawbone.

Ironically, a fighter may have been saved from injury Monday night because a thick foam-rubber covering on the ropes was added after Moore's death.

LOST MOUTHPIECE

Pete Gonzales of Hollywood, Calif., struck the back of his head on the lower strand in the third round after being knocked down by Wilhelm von Homburg in a fight at Hollywood's Moulin Rouge. But Gonzales, who had been floored four times in the first two rounds, recovered shortly after the referee had counted to 10.

Dr. Curphey declined to be drawn into a discussion whether boxing should be outlawed in California. Moore lost his mouthpiece early in the fight, and although it was restored at the end of the round, Curphey said, "I think the rules should require mouthpieces be placed back at once."

He said the absence of the mouthpiece may have intensified the effects of the facial blows caused hemorrhaging in the region of the temple.

"We have a long way to go to protect human beings in contact sports," said the coroner.

Ramos, who inflicted fatal injuries on Jose Tiger Blanco in Havana in 1958 in scoring a knockout, flew to Mexico City Monday after expressing his sorrow to Moore's widow, Geraldine. Ramos is a Cuban refugee who now makes his home in Mexico.

Mrs. Moore said she did not blame Ramos. "Davey's death was an act of God," she said.

The body of the 29-year-old boxer will be flown to Columbus, Ohio, Wednesday for funeral services.

The hue and cry over Gov. Edmund G. Brown's proposal to outlaw boxing in California continued unabated on street corners, in the press and on radio and television.

Sport Shorts

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Boxing promoter Al Lewis says he hopes to match fourth ranked middleweight Joey Giardello against former middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

Lewis announced his intentions Monday night after Giardello won a unanimous decision over Ernie Burford of Memphis, Tenn., in a 10 round feature at the Arena.

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Art Heyman, who led Duke to third place in the National Collegiate Basketball championships, will receive The Associated Press Player of the Year award tonight at the Atlantic Coast Conference's basketball jamboree.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Ed Kostenuk, Victoria, B.C., and Bob Mathauer, Gardena, Calif., were nominated today to drive cars in the 47th 500-mile auto race May 30.

deault traveled went on to Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina, but Bidault and Ribeaud had tickets only to Lisbon.

As he prepared to leave Germany, Bidault reportedly told Dutch and German journalists with whom he had been living near Munich:

"I intend to continue my political fight against De Gaulle until freedom in France is restored to the point where I can return to the soil of my own country and continue my political life."

Junker said Bidault's decision to leave Germany was entirely his own. But he said police escorted him to the airport "for his own safety."

Brown Goes Nine Innings For Win

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Righthander Paul Brown became the first Philadelphia pitcher to go nine innings this year when he shut out the Minnesota Twins 2-0 Monday in an exhibition baseball game.

The Twins' Dick Stigman and Joe Bonakowski held the Phils to six hits, but one of them was a run-scoring single by Bobby Oldis and another a solo homer by rookie Richie Allen.

The Phillies announced the purchase of John Klippstein, 34-year-old righthander, from Cincinnati for the waiver price of $20,000.

Klippstein has seen action with four clubs in both major leagues since starting with the Chicago Cubs in 1950. He was 7-6 last season and has a lifetime record of 84 wins, 103 defeats.

JOE ADCOCK EXPECTED TO HELP INDIANS

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joe Adcock, a slick piece of wampum in any wigwam, might be just the heap big medicine man Birdie Tebbetts wanted for his Indians.

When Tebbetts came to the Cleveland reservation last winter from Milwaukee, he talked the Braves into letting Adcock go in a trade for pitcher Frank Funk and outfielder Don Dillard. Now the Indians can count on a big gun for their attack instead of a bow and arrows.

Adcock proved Monday he can supply the power that's been missing from the Cleveland attack. The 35-year-old first baseman smashed two three-run homers and singled to start another three-run uprising as the Indians whipped Houston 11-3 in an exhibition game at Tucson.

BROWN LOOKS GOOD

Other outstanding individual performances were turned in by Philadelphia's Paul Brown, who pitched nine innings and shut out Minnesota 2-0 on six hits at Clearwater, and Bubba Phillips, who stroked five singles in Detroit's 17-3 belting of Washington at Pompano Beach.

In a pair of extra-inning affairs, Jim Hickman's 11th-inning homer gave the surprising New York Mets a 4-3 triumph over Milwaukee at St. Petersburg and Baltimore edged Pittsburgh 5-4 at Fort Myers on Mark Belanger's bases-loaded grounder in the 10th.

Elsewhere, the New York Yankees defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2 at Vero Beach. Boston beat San Francisco 4-2 at Scottsdale. St. Louis edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 at Sarasota. Kansas City walloped Cincinnati 11-4 at Tampa and the Chicago Cubs downed the Los Angeles Angels 7-4 at Mesa.

In off-the-field activity, the Mets released veteran outfielder Bob Cerv, who said he would retire from the game; Cincinnati sold pitcher Johnny Klippstein to Philadelphia, and the Angels sold infielder Leo Burke to St. Louis.

College Professor Expires On Monday
YORK, Pa. (AP) — Dr. Stuart Robert Lee, former faculty member at Columbia and Syracuse universities, collapsed and died Monday at his home in Zion View, five miles north of here.

Dr. Thomas M. Hart, county coroner, said Lee's body was found in his yard by a passing motorist. Death was attributed to a heart attack. He came to Pennsylvania a year ago following his retirement.

Survivors include the widow, Kathryn; one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Shaffer of New Cumberland R. 1, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at Lewisberry. Burial will be in Rolling Green Cemetery near Camp Hill.

Lehigh Revamps Grid Schedule

BETHLEHEM—The concluding game of the current football series between Lehigh and Columbia will be played in New York City on October 26 and not in Bethlehem as previously announced. The revision of the 1963 Lehigh football schedule was announced by William B. Leckomy, director of athletics at Lehigh.

Lehigh's complete 1963 varsity football schedule includes nine games, as follows: September 28 at Delaware; October 5 at Cornell; 12, Gettysburg; 19, at Rutgers; 26 at Columbia; November 2, Colgate; 9, at Davidson; 16 at Bucknell; 23, Lafayette; 30, Middle Atlantic Conference games (university division).

PSU LACROSSE COACH

UNIVERSITY PARK—Bill Hess, one of Penn State's all-time lacrosse greats, has been named coach of the Nittany Lions' lacrosse squad. He replaces Dick Pencke, who is on leave for the 1963 and 1964 seasons because of Army service.

American Red Cross chapter volunteers and staff each month last year served an average of 82,800 members of the U.S. Armed Forces and their dependents.

Most honorable Don Newcomb of the Chunichi Dragons has problems. Big Newk, a hulk of a man with the build of a sumo wrestler, never has little problems. Everything about him is jumbo-sized. Since he returned from Japan, Big Newk has been peddling booze. He operates an alcoholic tea house in Newark, a New Jersey community not overly addicted to lotus blossoms and seaweed soup.

Newk's problems involve his future. In idle moments between checking the cash register and explaining how he won 27 for Brooklyn in 1956, Newk wonders if maybe he should scout himself out of a job.

It seems when he left Japan in October, they asked him to look around for a couple of big leaguers who might be interested. He found two. They were interested. Both signed but Newk still is waiting.

"I got Jim Marshall and Bob Nieman for them," said Newk.

"The other day I got a letter for foreigners and they had two major leaguers and a Hawaiian. But they said if I could be there by March 31 they'd see what they could do."

"They were supposed to send me some money and I was going down to Florida with the Dodgers and work with some of the young pitchers and get myself in shape. Now I don't know."

Newk moved from the Dodgers to Cincinnati to Cleveland to the minor leagues. He was practically retired when the Japanese got in touch with him last summer. In Japan he was an outfielder and first baseman. He was so successful that he got a raise in mid-season.

"The last game they asked me to pitch a few innings to help draw a crowd," Newk recalled. "I hit about 265 or 270, hit 12 home runs and drove in some 80 runs. It was interesting and a lot of fun."

Newk said the ball was "about Class Double A" and added, "A good fast ball pitcher would knock the bat out of their hands."

Big Newk, dined down to 245, is waiting patiently. Well, almost patiently. He has a yen for the Dragons if they have enough yen for him.

Service Stars were awarded to the following: One year to Kenny Baker, Rick Cogley, John Oyler, and Scott Taylor, Benjamen Weaver.

Two-year pins to Philip Houck, Charles Lobough, Daniel Orner, John Strasbaugh, Jay Swisher, Rick Stover and William Sterrett.

Three-year pins to Tony Austin, Dick Hartman, Russell Orner, Kenny Sell.

Four-year pins to Robert Tate. Five-year pins to Jerry Scarpace.

RECEIVE CHARTER

Senior Patrol Leader Jerry Scarpace opened the meeting with the Scout law and salute to the flag. Scoutmaster J. R. Cogley welcomed the parents and friends. He also awarded service stars to the Scouts. David Houck, secretary-treasurer of the troop committee, reported on the Scout activities and presented registration cards to committeemen. John Stover, assistant Scoutmaster, presented registration cards to the Scouts. Rev. Fred Trimble Jr., pastor of the Zion United Church of Christ, Arendtsville, presented the 1963 Troop Charter to the Scoutmaster. Dr. Richard Greenholt, Littlestown, assistant Explorer commissioner for the Black Walnut District, outlined the story of the Explorer program and challenged those present to reactivate the Explorer program in Arendtsville. A series of contests on Scouting skills was conducted including compass work, axeman-ship, observation, fire by flint and steel, knotwork and Morse signaling. Refreshments were served by a committee of Scout mothers.

$10 MILLION LIBEL SUITS ON SEP STORY

ATLANTA (AP) — Investigation into the alleged rigging of a college football game continued today after a $10-million libel suit was filed against the magazine which published the rigging charges.

Wallace Butts, former vgeorgia athletic director, filed the damage suit in federal court Monday against the Curtis Publishing Co., publishers of the Saturday Evening Post.

Butts, who resigned as athletic director in February, charged in the suit that the Post has ruined his coaching career of 35 years by "willfully, maliciously and falsely" publishing a libelous article. The suit asks $5 million in punitive and $5 million in general damages.

POST'S STORY

George Burnett, an Atlanta insurance salesman who was questioned by state and federal investigators Monday, was quoted in the Post as saying he overheard a telephone conversation between Butts and Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama.

Burnett said in the Post article that Butts gave Georgia football secrets to Bryant eight days before the Sept. 22 game which Alabama won 35-0. Both men have denied the charges.

Butts said in the suit that the Post charged him with "rigging" and fixing the Alabama-Georgia football game with Coach Bryant as a gambling device in order to restore his financial resources."

YOUNG PAIR KEPT BUSY ON SHOW CHORES

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Mark and Leslie Hunter, brother and sister aged respectively 9 and 11, are two of the busiest young performers in show business. They are so busy, in fact, that it takes the combined services of their mother, Diana, and their maternal grandmother to provide the requisite amount of chaperoning chores.

Like most other young professionals who have grown up around adults, both youngsters seem old and sophisticated beyond their years and have a poise that a member of the international jet set would envy.

Leslie, the younger, got into show business quite by chance about three years ago. She was going to dancing school and was asked to try out, along with the other students, for a bit in "The Dave King Show" one summer when the English star was doing a television summer replacement show.

INTO TELEVISION

Soon came a part in a Broadway show and she moved along to television. She was beaten to death in a "Ben Casey" episode, and was in dire peril in "Route 66." She suffered so well in a "Defender" show last season that she is now back making another.

Mark, who followed along, has a string of Broadway hits under his belt that even a middle-aged performer would envy, including "Gypsy," "The Music Man," and "Bye, Bye Birdie."

Both youngsters attend the Professional Children's School in New York. When Leslie works in Hollywood, she keeps up by a special correspondence course.

LET'S CHILDREN CHAT

Their mother, who accompanied them on a recent interview, sat back proudly and let the children chat.

Leslie, asked about her attack on a new script, smiled wisely and explained: "It's quite easy. First I read the script through three times to establish the relationships—it's really a bit of Stanislawski method. Then I read it once more. I have it."

Said Mark: "A Broadway show is an entirely different experience. After a short time it really can get very boring."

"They are much like any other children," remarked their mother. "Leslie collects dolls. Mark is interested in science."

Boils will be boils. A boil is an oversized pimple. Our skin harbors many germs. Most of them are harmless. Not the staphylococcus germ. It gets under the skin. Usually where friction occurs. Like a man's collar line. Then comes a boil in the neck. Don't ever squeeze a boil. That spreads the poison around. Boils need medical attention.

EXTEND DATE FOR AUTO TAGS

The state Revenue Department said Monday the deadline for automobile license applications will be extended beyond March 31.

However, Revenue Secretary Theodore B. Smith Jr. said length of the extension will not be announced until Saturday.

It was learned Monday that 4,520,000 license stickers have been mailed out. A source in the Bureau of Motor Vehicles said a total of 3.8 million applications are expected by April 1.

The bureau reported earlier that 4.4 million renewal applications were mailed out this year to car owners. Smith said Monday that 1.3 million of these have not yet sent in their renewal forms.

The secretary said his department can process approximately 100,000 licenses per day, thus indicating the state will require at least until the middle of April to finish the job.

"With only four working days left before the end of the month," Smith said, "We could not possibly process what we have on hand and what will arrive by mail through the balance of the week."

Flores, an electrician on the U.S. Dewline (distant early warning) radar network, had completed his contract and was flying home in his $7,000 private plane.

Telling of the crash from his hospital bed, he said he was planning to stop at Fort St. John, in northern British Columbia, but got lost in snow clouds.

"I was trying to use the last drop of gas in my tank because I was going to use more time to get to my destination. When I saw where I was, it was too late. RAN OUT OF GAS

"I was checking the radio range, looking for the beam and watching the mountain when the center tank ran out of gas. Just as I reached over to switch on Det. Supt. William Gilmore of Pittsburgh said the note was worded similar to others used in several front tank, the wing tip caught the trees.

"We just went inside the trees." Flores said the two were unconscious for 30 minutes to an hour. He suffered rib, jaw, eye and face injuries. When he recovered consciousness, his feet were partially frozen. That, he said, was why he did not move away from the wreckage until about two weeks ago. Miss Klaben also was almost immobile.

Doctors said the forced inactivity probably was one reason the two were able to survive without food. But they said the pair had just about reached the end of their strength and they doubted that either could have lasted an- and two of sardines which they managed to eke out for a week, other week.

HAD SOME FOOD

The pair had two cans of fruit. Then they ate two tubes of tooth- the cold only for the first two weeks but "the nights were bad." Flores, less seriously injured, paste. After that, they said, it was melted snow.

Miss Klaben said she noticed left the plane two weeks ago and built a brush-lined shelter from seal coverings and canvas fittings on an exposed knoll two miles from the plane wreckage. They had plenty of wood for fires and plenty of matches, but their only tools were a hammer and a chisel.

The Brooklyn girl, smiling again, said she always loved camping but "next time I go, I'm going to take along some supplies."

She told a newsman they were not bothered by wild animals. "There were just rabbits, thank goodness."

"I tried to snare rabbits, but just couldn't," said Flores.

MAKES SOS

When the lean-to was finished, Flores said he fashioned bulky snowshoes from bark and branches and set out for the Alaska Highway, about 60 miles away. Leaving Miss Klaben at the lean-to, he slogged through the snow in subzero temperatures, he said, and built another shelter three miles farther on.

This was in open country and, working doggedly for three days, he managed to tramp out an "S O S" in the snow.

It was this signal that bush pilot Chuck Hamilton saw Sunday and that led to the rescue.

"I did not know if I was going to make the road, but I had faith I was going to be found," Flores said. "Yes, I had faith because I have faith in the Lord."

day night.

They gave him some bread and moose meat and the next morning helped him down the mountain to a rescue plane.

Hamilton flew back Monday morning to pick up the girl. The closest he could get his ski-equipped plane to her was three miles.

He trudged through the soft snow on snowshoes, the hardest trip he said he had ever made.

KISSES RESCUERS

"The first thing she said to me," he reported, "was 'you're the man that saved me. I'd love to kiss you, but I can't walk.' She asked me to come and sit beside her. When I did, she kissed me."

Picking her up, Hamilton carried Miss Klaben piggyback the three miles to his plane, falling several times because of soft snow.

"I knew she was in pain, but she didn't cry out," he said. "If it had been me, I don't think I'd come out of it even though I am experienced at this game."

"Oh God, I'm alive and the world's my home," cried Miss Klaben when she reached the rescue center.

"She wanted to see things," said her mother in Brooklyn. "To see something of life and the world before settling down. And she managed to do it."

News Briefs ARTIST TURNS HANDICAP INTO AWARD DESIGN

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Japanese - American Rose Hiraga has never had the luxury of considering what she'd like to do in the way of art, she says. But she is a good design award winner chosen by the American Society of Interior Designers. She designed a modern fabric.

"I like to do things that are stylized, simple and free, modern in the sense that it is not bound by traditions," says Miss Hiraga. She was born in Portland, Oregon, and draws and paints in spite of a large handicap. She is a quadriplegic, paralyzed in all four limbs. In 1947, a year after she graduated from the Rhode Island School of Design her neck was broken in an automobile accident. She spent two years in a hospital trying to reuse her limbs to continue her art work. Then she designed a leather glove to wear over her paralyzed fingers. With it she can hold a brush through an aperture in the leather and control it with the muscles of her upper arms. She cannot move her fingers.

"I'm mainly interested in designing whatever will bring in some money," chuckles Miss Hiraga whose warm, placid smile lights the tiny room where she lives and works.

APPLIED ART
"My training was in industrial design, the applied arts rather than fine art, so most of my designs are done to order. I am told how large to make the flowers and the leaves, whether the fabric should look well with traditional, whether it is to be used outdoors and indoors as well."

Miss Hiraga works with a few companies because she doesn't get out for months at a time. She needs a strong man to wheel her down steps, to visit the companies.

"Even if I could get more work, it wouldn't be easy getting around to discuss changes in the design, as you must from time to time. Some people come here for the discussions or I send work by messengers. Others discuss an idea with me on the telephone." Some people like her designs

A transportation contract was approved to accommodate two public school pupils in a section of Conewago Twp. not served by school buses. Roger Diller will be paid $1.55 a day to haul the youngsters. The board formally signed a resolution setting up a program of diagnostic and consultative service for pupils who are emotionally or socially disturbed. The program was approved at the last board meeting.

The county superintendent reported on a Greencastle meeting last week on the subject of area technical schools. Routine approval was given to special education accounts for January and February showing disbursements of about $20,500 in January and approximately the same sum last month.

Copies of the 1961 school code, the new county school directory and the copies of the condensed reports of last fall's county teachers' institute session were distributed to the county board members. The meeting adjourned at 10:15 p.m. President William M. Lott presided with all members present.

because they are uninfluenced, she says. She doesn't do Oriental things because the market is flooded with such good stuff.

PUBLIC OPINION

"If you are in the mass market you must keep up with the season's trend, but an original version of the trend is what they seek, a paradox. You never know what people are going to like," she says.

Miss Hiraga's designs are cheerful. Her "Jacks" wallpaper, a series of Xs in a Jacks pattern has a star-bright glimmer in its simplicity. She designs greeting cards, some to order.

One must design on a steady basis to make a good living. Design fees are less than the untalented would imagine. Wallpaper designs are in the $100 bracket, fabric designs earn more but tops would be about $250.

"Companies operate in different ways in purchasing designs," Miss Hiraga points out. "There's no formula. Some companies buy from the outside, some buy from artist studios, some employ artists for a minimal but steady salary, a retainer fee."

On a royalty basis one is likely to get five per cent, but everything depends on the policy of the company, she explains. She works for a flat fee.

PRO-CASTRO CONGRESS TO FACE ARRESTS

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Organizers of an anti-American, pro-Castro congress face the threat of jail if they open the Brazilian section of the rally in Rio de Janeiro today as scheduled.

Anti-Communist Gov. Carlos Lacerda of Guanabara State, which includes Rio, made the threat of arrest Monday in a move to bar the congress, which has aroused adverse comment in the U.S. Congress.

Lacerda has no authority, however, in Sao Paulo, where the major international section of the so-called Cuba Solidarity Congress opens Thursday. The congress is neither supported nor condemned by the administration of President Joao Goulart, which got a pledge of $398.5 million in low interest loans in Washington Monday.

PUBLIC ORDER PERILED
The head of the congress organizing committee, retired Gen. Luis Gonzaga Leite, said earlier the Brazilian rally would not move to Sao Paulo. He could not be reached for comment after the arrest warning.

Lacerda said "public order, social peace and democratic liberties" were threatened by "subversive action of an organized mi-

SATURN SHOT ON THURSDAY

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A big doubleheader launching scheduled Thursday will end a lull in the U.S. space program. It will not break 1963's over-all pattern as a building year for great exploits expected in 1964 and after.

At 1:30 p.m. (EST) Thursday, the mammoth Saturn is set to thunder aloft on the fourth test flight for this booster—the fore-runner of a rocket which will carry American astronauts to the moon. At 9 p.m., a sleek Delta rocket is to attempt to hoist the Explorer 17 satellite into orbit to investigate the structure of the earth's atmosphere.

Technical or other troubles could delay the launches. As on three previous Saturn tests, all of them successful, only the first stage will be fired. After 100 seconds of flight, one of the eight engines which power the 165-foot-tall rocket will be shut off to check the vehicle's ability to perform its mission if an engine fails.

Explorer 17 is another of a family of scientific satellites designed for basic research in the world beyond our world. The 405-pound ball is crammed with detority." Authority for his decision, he said, could be found in the state constitution and laws which "prohibit propaganda for war, class struggle and violent methods of subvert constitutional order and perturb public order."

Cooking Is Fun

By Cecily Brownstone

WEEKDAY LUNCH

We've revived a quick-bread recipe popular in the '20s that is made without eggs, sugar and fat.

Chicken Noodle Soup
Crackers
Egg Salad
Bran Health Bread
Fruit Beverage

BRAN HEALTH BREAD

1 cup unsifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups ready-to-eat bran
1/4 cup dark molasses
1 cup buttermilk

Into a medium mixing bowl, sift together the flour, baking soda and salt; stir in the bran. Add molasses and buttermilk. Stir only until no particles of flour can be seen. Turn into a greased loaf pan (8 by 4 by 3 inches). Batter will be thick; spread top evenly. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 40 minutes or until cake-tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out on wire rack, turn right side up; cool. Top surface will be flat without a crack. Loaf may be sliced right after cooling. Wrap in saran and store in tightly covered container and bread should stay moist for several days. Serve with butter.

GOOD DINNER

This delightful cookie, similar to shortbread but crispier, is appropriate at holiday time. And it's easy to make!

Stuffed Pork Chops with Apple Rings
Baked Potatoes Green Peas
Salad Bowl Bread Tray
Mrs. F's Almond Crescents Beverage

MRS. F'S ALMOND CRESCENTS
1/2 cup butter
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
3/4 cup grated blanched almonds
3/4 cup unsifted flour
1/4 cup confectioners sugar

Cream the butter, granulated sugar and vanilla. Add the almonds and flour; blend thoroughly with your fingers. Hand-shape into small crescents about 1/2-inch thick. Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet in a slow (325 degrees) oven about 20 minutes, until bottom surface of cookies are tinged a golden color. Remove to wire rack to cool slightly; while still warm, roll in confectioners sugar. Makes 2 dozen.

vices to measure temperatures, composition, pressures and density of the atmosphere at altitudes from 155 to 580 miles.

Store cold cookies in tightly closed container. This recipe does not call for salt, and we use unsalted butter in it. If the almonds are blanched at home, they should be dried at room temperature, not toasted in the oven; grate them in a small hand-operated rotary-type nut grater so they are fine.

QUICK MENU OF THE WEEK
Here's a soup combination dreamed up at our house. Followed by a cake-mix dessert, it offered a speedy and satisfying lunch.

Combination Soup Crusty Rolls
White Cake with Apple-Spice Topping Beverage

COMBINATION SOUP

2 cans (each 10 3/4 ounces) turkey vegetable soup
1 can (12 ounces) vegetable juice
Sugar and dried crumbled basil

Turn the soups without diluting them, and the vegetable juice into a saucepan. Bring to a boil, stirring occasionally. Add sugar and basil to taste; dilute with a little water if you like; simmer about 5 minutes. Makes 3 main-dish servings. The canned vegetable juice used is a blend of eight vegetables, including tomato.

NEW YEAR'S EVE PARTY

This combination of ingredients makes a punch with delightful flavor and spirit!

Baked Ham Relishes
Assorted Salads Buttered Rolls
New Year Punch Holiday Cookies

NEW YEAR PUNCH

2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen sliced strawberries
1 bottle (4-5 of a quart) sauteur (chilled)
1 lemon and 1 orange (both thinly sliced)
Ice block (made in a 2- or 3-cup size mold)

6 ounces (3/4 cup) cognac
1 bottle (26 ounces) champagne (chilled)
Shortly before serving, turn the strawberries into a large punch bowl with the sauteur, lemon and orange slices; allow to thaw at room temperature just enough to separate the berries. Add the ice block, cognac and champagne; stir gently and serve. Makes 16 servings.

NEW YEAR'S DINNER

Do you know how good a simple dish such as creamed onions tastes with rich roast duck?

Roast Duck with Stuffing and Gravy
Creamed Onions Baked Potatoes
Green Peas Bread Tray
Fruit Compote Beverage

CREAMED ONIONS

1 1/2 pounds small white onions

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
1 cup milk

Peel onions; cover with boiling lightly salted water and boil until tender — about 20 minutes. In a clean dry saucepan melt the butter over low heat; stir in until smooth the cornstarch, salt and pepper. Remove from heat; gradually add the milk, stirring until smooth after each addition. Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until sauce thickens and comes to a boil. Still stirring constantly, boil 1 or 2 minutes. Drain cooked onions and add; reheat. Makes 6 servings.

SUNDAY BRUNCH

Pineapple Fruit Cup
Poached Eggs on Chicken and Ham Hash
Hot Biscuits Beverage

POACHED EGGS

Spread a film of butter or margarine over the bottom and lower sides of a deep 10-inch skillet. Pour in enough boiling water to have 1-inch depth. Bring water to a boil again, then allow to come to simmering. Break an egg into a cup and holding the cup close to the simmering water, drop in the egg; continue to do this quickly with 3 or 4 more eggs. At once cover skillet; allow to stand over very low heat, making sure water does not boil, for 2 to 4 minutes or until whites are set and yolks are as firm as desired. Remove eggs to a platter with a slotted spoon; trim off raggedy edges; place on plates with slotted spoon. This double draining helps to eliminate all water. Remember that in simmering bubbles appear just below, not over, the surface of the water. Makes 4 or 5 poached eggs; if more eggs are needed make in a separate batch.

FAMILY DINNER

This adaptation of a classic French recipe has piquant flavor.

Cream of Tomato Soup
Liver Lyonnaise
Mashed Potatoes
Snap Beans Bread Tray
Fruit Salad Beverage

LIVER LYONNAISE

1 pound baby beef liver (sliced 1/4-inch thick)
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 medium onions
2 tablespoons oil or shortening
1 tablespoon flour
1 chicken bouillon cube dissolved in 1 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon minced parsley
Cut liver into strips about 2-inches long and 1/2-inch wide; sprinkle with half the salt and pepper. Peel and quarter onions; slice into thin strips. In a large skillet (about 10-inches) heat the oil over moderate heat; add liver; cook until it loses its red color, turning with a wide spatula. With a slotted spoon remove liver and keep warm. Add onions to skillet; over low heat stir with a wooden spoon to get up drippings and color onions golden; stir in remaining salt and pepper and the flour. Add bouillon and vinegar; cook and stir constantly until sauce thickens; boil gently for 5 minutes or so. Add liver and parsley; mix and serve. Makes 4 small servings.

LADIES LUNCHEON

Suit yourself in the way you serve this dessert — any way its offered, it's delicious.

Cold Sliced Smoked Tongue
Scalloped Potatoes
Fruit Mustard
Salad Bowl Rolls
Caramel Custard Phyllis Beverage

CARAMEL CUSTARD PHYLLIS
1 package butterscotch-flavored pudding dessert mix
1 tablespoon powdered instant coffee
1 cup heavy cream
1 cup milk

Stir the dessert mix and the coffee together; cook according to package directions using the cream and milk as the liquid. Turn into a bowl; cover tightly; cool. Refrigerate. Serve as is in sherbet glasses with whipped cream topping or use as a filling for cream puffs. The butterscotch-flavored mix plus the coffee and cream give a caramel-like flavor.

SELECT JURY FOR MITCHELL BRIBERY TRIAL

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Defense and prosecution attorneys continued today their efforts to pick a U.S. District Court jury for the trial of six Teamsters officers charged with conspiring to defraud Local 107.

Lamb Chop Grill with Bacon and Mushrooms
Wild Rice Broiled Tomatoes
Baked Soft Meringue with Frozen Raspberries
MARINATED ARTICHOKE HEARTS

1 package (9 ounces) artichoke hearts
2 tablespoons olive oil
1 tablespoon white wine vinegar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon Dijon mustard
Cook artichoke hearts according to package directions; drain. In a shallow contained mix together the remaining ingredients; mix in artichoke hearts. Add a little more oil if marinade seems too sharp. Cover tightly and refrigerate for an hour or so before serving, turning artichoke hearts in the small amount of marinade once or twice. Makes 6 servings.

The trial opened Monday with questioning of four prospective jurors. None was picked, adding to indications this will be a long trial.

Among the defendants is Raymond Cohen, secretary-treasurer of the vast local that covers parts of Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

He and the other five, all members or former members of the local, were indicted in 1959 on charges of conspiring to defraud the local of funds and property. The indictments followed an investigation by the Senate rackets committee.

Ensign Donald L. Wiseman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oda Wiseman, Abbottstown R. 1, is serving aboard the oiler USS Waccamaw, which has returned to her home port, Newport, R. ## SCHOLARSHIP AID LIKELY IN FORM OF LOANS

By FRED WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP)—The scholarship aid program of the Scranton administration probably will be in the form of loans.

Gov. Scranton gave the first tip-off of his thinking when he used the word "loan-scholarship" in a speech at a centennial ceremony at LaSalle College in Philadelphia last Wednesday.

Heretofore, he has mentioned "scholarship loans," which, to the ear of the education, has a vaguer meaning.

Scholarships commonly are considered outright grants, without any repayment requirement of the grantee.

GRANTS AND LOANS

Furthermore, the administration endorsed an amendment to the state Constitution authorizing the state to make both grants and loans to able youngsters who need outside help to get through college.

The reference to "scholarship loans" in the Republican campaign platform of 1962 and the governor's use of these same words in various speeches, made educators wonder: "Does he mean both loans and scholarships?"

Sources in the governor's office told The Associated Press that the governor was, indeed, thinking in terms of a loan program rather than scholarship grants.

REPAY AFTER GRADUATION

Scranton was reported favoring a plan where the state guarantees loans made by private lending institutions. The state pays the interest on the loan while the student is in college and also the excess over 3 per cent interest following graduation.

The student is not obligated to begin repaying the loan until he leaves school.

As for outright grants, fiscal considerations apparently have ruled out this possibility.

One area that remains to be clarified is the governor's timetable on a loan program.

THE ALTERNATIVES

If the constitutional amendment, approved by the 1961-62 Legislature, receives the final approval of the current legislature, it would go before the voters in the fall.

Scranton told the LaSalle audience that legislation to implement the program would be forthcoming next year if the amendment is adopted.

However, the 1964 session will be restricted to budget-making and such legislation to define a loan program would be out of the question.

The alternatives would be to call a special session for that purpose, to wait for 1965 or to introduce the necessary measures this session.

"REASONABLE REQUESTS"

The education lobbies requests for massive new spending for the public schools were squelched by the governor's office before they barely had settled in their legislative pigeonhole.

In discussing problems of the 1963-64 budget with newsmen last Friday, the front office said it was considering "reasonable" requests for new spending.

Asked if this applied to the $130 million program put forth by the Pennsylvania State Education Association, the Pennsylvania State School Boards Association and the

DIES IN CRASH

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rudolph Klein, 50, was killed Monday when an ambulance he and his wife were riding in crashed with an oil truck. Mrs. Klein, 52, died of a heart ailment an hour later. The ambulance had been taking her to the hospital and her husband had gone along to comfort her. Three other persons were hurt, none seriously.

LEBANON, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Violet Miller Keller, 24, of Myers-town was charged with murder Monday in the death of her newborn daughter, Maryse Annette. Dist. Atty. Alvin B. Lewis Jr. said Mrs. Keller gave birth to the child at her home on March 15. He said the baby was found dead in a cardboard box in a closet Saturday.

Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers, the spokesman reminded newsmen he had said "reasonable" requests.

However, the spending demands of the three big organizations have a way of avoiding executive department efforts to keep them buried in legislative committees.

$30 MILLION LIKELY

More likely, the most the governor would accept in the budget is the $30 million proposed by the governor's Committee of 100 for Better Education.

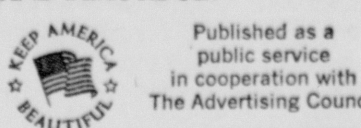

The proposals of the lobbies would advance state aid in one giant step to the current estimated level of expenditures for classroom instruction. (State aid is based on a figure set in 1957 and now representing about 55 per cent of the actual expenditures.)

But only a general sales tax, at least the present 4 per cent rate, would support that big a step in addition to other increases in the budget.

And, unless there is a great groundswell of grass roots support for such a massive expansion of the sales tax—food and clothing would become taxable—the lobbies probably will have to settle for about the $30 million.

MISERABLE, HE SUES WORKERS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. worker has sued two fellow employees and the firm for more than $30,000. He claims the two workers made his life miserable.

The suit was filed Monday by Brooks Love of Pittsburgh, a J&L employee at the Allegheny County Airport.

Love charges Kenneth Reichel of Mount Lebanon, a mechanic; and Charles Paul of Pleasant Hills, chief J&L pilot, with making his life miserable through three years of "persecution and conspiracy."

The suit also contended the company failed to properly police its property and employees.

Paul and Reichel, Love charged, ran a power shovel against him, peppered him with an airgun, set off firecrackers near him, cut his shoelaces, spilled his lunch, gave him exploding cigars and put a woman's girdle in his lunchbox to embarrass him at home.

LIPPI TRIAL IS UNDERWAY

By DAVE LEHERR

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Government testimony gets under way today in the second income tax evasion trial of August J. Lippi and two Luzerne County mining firms.

The long-delayed trial opened Monday in U.S. District Court with the quick selection of a jury and a 45-minute opening statement by special deputy Atty. Gen. John Burke.

The first witness is expected to be called after defense attorneys decide whether to present their opening arguments now or wait until the government rests its case.

On trial are the Avon and Peeley mining companies of Exeter; Lippi, president of United Mine Workers Union, District 1; Robert L. Dougherty Sr., president of the two companies; and Leonard Statkewicz and Frank Cardoni, former Lippi aides.

The government contends the two companies used padded payrolls and falsified wage records to evade $106,189 in corporate income taxes for fiscal 1957 and 1958. Burke, who is handling the government's case, told the jury of six men and six women Monday he would prove that 28 relatives and acquaintances of the four individual defendants were placed on company payrolls to reduce the total net income so that taxes would be lower.

COMMUNITY COLLEGES GET 1ST BIG PUSH

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
HARRISBURG (AP)—A statewide system of community colleges received its first big push today in the 1963 General Assembly.

Chairman Edwin D. Eshleman called up for consideration of the House Education Committee a bill that would permit a start on the system while the Scranton administration worked out its own program in that field.

The governor's office said the administration approved of the committee chairman's decision.

UP TO VOTERS

The action was prompted by freshman Rep. Wilmot E. Fleming, R-Montgomery, principal sponsor of a bill that would permit school districts and municipalities to organize their own two-year college, without the necessity of state aid.

Fleming's bill would provide for students to pay one-third of the costs and the sponsoring districts and municipalities to pay the remainder.

The plan for such a college would be subject to approval of a majority of the voters in each political subdivision involved and also by the state Council of Education.

TWO BILLS PASS

Gov. Scranton has advocated a statewide community college system, but his administration's priority of legislative proposals does not call for introduction of its own legislation for several days.

Two administration bills won final legislative approval Monday. One was ratification of the amendment to the U.S. constitution outlawing the poll tax as a qualification for voters. It passed the Senate, 50-0. The House originally passed it, 183-1.

Pennsylvania was the 25th state to ratify it.

The other administration bill given final approval was a measure prohibiting judges from serving as arbitrators, for a fee, outside their courtroom.

In other legislative developments:

Mental health—Sen. Albert R. Pechan, R-Armstrong, offered what he termed clarifying amendments to proposed legislation that would establish a separate department of mental health in Pennsylvania government. Mental health functions are now incorporated in a bureau in the Public Welfare Department.

He did not specify particular problems at which the amendments were aimed. They were adopted without challenge.

Highways—Democrats in both houses attacked the Scranton administration for claims that Democrats overspent highways funds last year and depleted the motor fund reserves to $20.9 million this year from some $47 million last year.

WOULD OUTLAW BOXING

The governor, said Sen. Fred B. Rooney, D-Northampton, "talks out of both sides of his mouth" in claiming Democrats overspent highway funds.

Boxing—A bill was introduced in the Senate to outlaw boxing in Pennsylvania. The measure apparently stemmed from the death of boxer Davey Moore in California.

Cats and dogs—Bills were introduced in both houses to classify cats and dogs "domestic animals" under the terms of Pennsylvania law. A Superior Court opinion held last week that Pennsylvania law makes no mention of cats and dogs as domestic animals and therefore, there can be no penalty for destroying them, unless the law was changed.

HEARING HELD
Education—Democrats concluded their hearings on an administration proposal that would establish a separate state board of education to take over policy making functions of the department of public instruction.

Most of the dozen witnesses endorsed the legislation in principle, but favored changing the measure to require the superintendent of public instruction to be a participant in board functions. As now written, the superintendent would be excluded from the board, unless specifically invited to attend.

Call Witnesses In TFX Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators called more witnesses today in their investigation of the TFX warplane 7, the senators drop their inquiry into whether favoritism might have steered the fighter-bomber contract — which ultimately may be worth $6.5 billion—to the General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth, Tex.

McNamara swore that neither political influence nor self interest motivated his awarding the contract to General Dynamics over the Boeing Co. of Seattle, Wash. He said the fact that Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson comes from Texas — where most of the planes will be manufactured — had nothing to do with his decision.

one plan
that can provide all the life insurance
you need now!

Just one plan provides lump sum insurance on your life...it also protects your wife...and each dependent youngster is insured, too. If a new baby comes along he's automatically covered after 15 days at no increase in premium.

Best of all, it provides for a cash monthly income for your family if you die...income that can last as long as 30 years. This cash income really rounds out your family's protection. And you pay for no waste coverage. When your children are tots, the length of income benefits is at a maximum. As they grow older and protection needs lessen, your protection tapers off, too. One plan does the whole job...and it's available through just one man, your Nationwide agent. Call him — he's in the Yellow Pages.

BERLIN TALKS ARE RESUMED TODAY IN D.C.

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union today resume exploratory talks on Berlin.

Only one session is definitely planned: an afternoon meeting between Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. The object is to see if serious East-West negotiations on Berlin are possible.

U.S. officials firmly declined to speculate about the possible outcome of the meeting. But they said privately they expect Dobrynin to expand on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's recent suggestion that the flags of the three Western occupying powers in West Berlin be replaced by the U.N. banner.

1ST SINCE OCTOBER

In proposing last January that new exploratory talks be held, Moscow gave no indication it is planning to make new proposals.

The Soviets, it is believed here, want to keep this channel of communications open not necessarily on Berlin alone. Dobrynin, some U.S. specialists feel, might bring up other issues, such as the Kremlin's old proposal for a non-aggression pact between the Atlantic alliance and the Communist bloc.

All this, officials stress, is little more than guessing.

Probes and negotiations dating back to the end of World War II have failed to produce any Berlin solution. The last series of U.S.-Soviet talks broke down last October, just before the Cuban crisis.

CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Election of officers was held at the meeting of the Southern Adams Agriculture 4-H Club on Friday evening at the home of the club leader, Mrs. Charles Slusser, Littlestown R. D. Results of the election follow: President, James Rohrbaugh; vice president, Ronald Shealer; secretary, Edward Hildebrand; treasurer, Allen Ozminski; song and game leader, Larry Garland; news reporter, Ray Muller.

Seventeen members were in attendance and these new members were welcomed: Bonnie Ozminski, Stephen Garland, Larry Garland, Douglas Musselman, Craig Zumbur, Kathy Weisel and Ray Muller. Adult visitors present were Mrs. James Garland, Mrs. Joseph Musselman and Mrs. C. Aaron Rohrbaugh. Group songs followed the business and refreshments were served.

An ABC 4-H demonstration will be given at the next meeting of the club on Wednesday, April 17, at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Center. The club will meet at the home of Ray Muller, Littlestown R. D., on Friday, May 3.

The Starr Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will hold its first spring meeting at the church on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Maurice C. Wareheim, Mrs. Claude Wintrobe and Mrs. George Plunkert will be hostesses. Plans will be made to hold a covered dish supper in connection with the April meeting.

A pot luck supper will be held in conjunction with the meeting of the Ladies' Bible Class of St. James United Church of Christ, along the Harney Rd. at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the church. Class members and teachers and families are invited to attend. Each adult is asked to take a covered dish.

James Kroh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth K. Kroh, near town, and Miss Sadi Hawk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Hawk, Prince St., both students at Shippensburg State College and both members of the college band, participated in the annual spring concert by the band on Sunday afternoon in Memorial Auditorium. Mr. and Mrs. Kroh, Mr. and Mrs. Hawk, Mrs. Richard A. Little Jr. and son, Gregg, attended the concert.

Boy Electrocuted While Flying Kite

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Francis Gegac, 14, was electrocuted Monday when he came into contact with a 23,000-volt line while trying to retrieve his kite at a power station in suburban Whitehall.

The Allegheny County morgue said the kite was snagged on part of the Duquesne Light Co. Elwyn substation or on a nearby pole.

A company spokesman said the youth apparently came into contact with the power line after he climbed to an overhead structure.

A gate in a fence around the substation had been forced open, the spokesman said.

YOUTH NIGHT ON WEDNESDAY

Youth Night will be observed and the local exchange students will be featured on the program at the March meeting of the Woman's Community Club of Littlestown and Vicinity Wednesday evening in the social room of the Eagles home, W. King St. The meeting will convene following the community church services at 8:30 p.m.

The program, which will be held first, will include a Japanese dance by Miss Hisako Ogaso, Tokyo, Japan, and slides on Germany will be shown by Miss Sigrun Bohm, Zocklerweg, Germany. A business session will conclude the evening to be led by Miss Jill Weikert, local high school senior, who was an exchange student to Germany last year. The program will also include drum solo selections by John "Butch" Feeser, Littlestown R. D.

Mrs. Edward H. Leister, president, will preside for the business when plans will be furthered for the club-sponsored public card party in April. Arrangements for the evening's program are in charge of the International Affairs Department, Mrs. Robert H. Miller, chairman. Refreshments will be served during the social hour by the Education Department, Mrs. Atlee F. Rebert, chairman.

LENTEN SERVICES

Lenten services will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in St. Luke's United Church of Christ, near White Hall. The sermon will be delivered by the pastor, the Rev. George Shultz Jr.

Michael Collins, son of Mrs. George G. Collins, Prince St.; Bruce Stair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson J. Stair, W. King St.; and Larry Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Snyder, Prince St., all students at Dickinson College, Carlisle, are spending the spring vacation at their respective homes.

The family night meeting of Bethel Assembly of God Church, along the Littlestown Fish and Game Rd., will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Badge work will continue at the meeting of Girl Scout Troop 780 Wednesday after school at the Community Center. Mrs. James H. Spalding is the troop leader.

GUNMAN ROBS BANK OF $6,883

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A gunman dressed in dark clothes and a dark felt hat robbed a bank in the city's Squirrel Hill section of $6,883 Monday.

The gunman entered the Mellon National Bank & Trust Co. branch office and went to the window of teller Nancy Dufalla, 22.

Miss Dufalla said the man held a gun with his hand on the counter and said, "This is a holdup." She said he then shoved her note which read:

"Hand me $5 to $100 bills. Do it quickly and quietly or you're dead."

The man took the money and left.

Herbert W. Adams, assistant vice president and manager of the bank, said he sounded an alarm after he heard Miss Dufalla say, "There's been a holdup." He said she was crying and appeared ill.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Chaplain Morris Kertzer was seated on the pulpit of the first large synagogue to hold services after the liberation of Rome. When a young American soldier made his way to the front.

He explained to the chaplain that he had left Italy ten years before, at the age of 20, to come to America and had not seen his mother in all that time. He wanted the chaplain to announce that he was there, certain that if his mother was still alive she would be at the service. Chaplain Kertzer told the young man he could not fulfill his request for he was not in charge of the service. "But," the chaplain continued, "When I am introduced stand beside me," said the chaplain. "I am sure your mother will recognize you."

The soldier stood by the chaplain. Hardly had the introduction been made when a cry of recognition rose from the vast crowd. A little lady ran up and there, in the pulpit of the synagogue, a mother and son were reunited through faith.

TO REGISTER

The child must be six years of age before February 1, 1964. The compulsory attendance age is eight to 17.

As part of the registration, the children will be given a visual screening test. This test will be conducted by teams from the local American Association of University Women. These members were trained by Miss Betsy Shank, prevention consultant, from the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind. This test is available to all children four years and above even though they do not start to school this year. Parents are urged to bring these younger children for the visual test.

The First Grade teachers will help with the registration. Therefore, the First Grade students will not have school that day.

Parents with children to be registered are asked to bring them at the indicated time and place.

Negroes To Attend U.S. War College

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy for the first time has picked Negro officers to attend the Naval War College, it was learned today.

They are Cmdr. Samuel L. Gravelly Jr., 40, a native of Richmond, Va., and Lt. Cmdr. George I. Thompson of Los Angeles. Gravelly, the highest ranking Negro in the Regular Navy, was the first of his race to graduate from a midshipman's school. That was in December 1944.

The Navy chooses its most promising officers to attend the War College at Newport, R.I. This normally marks them for more responsible duties.

The names of Gravelly and Thompson appeared on a list of officers tapped for classes convening this fall.

Gravelly will attend the senior command and staff course in a class of 135 officers. Thompson will attend a warfare course numbering 100 officers.

RECALL 235 MEN

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—Some 235 men have been recalled to work at the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.'s heavy repair shop in Altoona and up to 1,800 men will be rehired in two months, the firm says.

The reason for the recall is that the PRR wants to keep a fleet of serviceable freight cars at its current level and reverse the decline of the past several years, John L. Parkes, repair shop manager, said Monday.

The New York Yankee drew their club record home attendance of 2,373,901 in 1948 when they finished third in the American League pennant race.

AUTHOR ADDS CHINESE FOOD COOKING CLASS

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

Once in a while a cook book author, knowledgeable about a foreign cuisine, takes endless pains to help Americans duplicate the delectable dishes of another land. Using her experience in teaching Chinese cuisine to New Yorkers, Grace Zia Chu, author of the recently published "The Pleasures of Chinese Cooking" (Simon & Schuster) has done just that in her book.

As a pupil in one of Mrs. Chu's classes, I can testify to her talent for preparing and presenting Chinese dishes and her sympathetic attitude to cooks who are interested in learning new skills.

"The Pleasures of Chinese Cooking" has a delightful format and its contents are refreshingly arranged. There are recipes for dishes popular in Chinese-American restaurants, a group of menus and recipes using ingredients from American markets and another group using those from Chinese food stores, and a section on Chinese hors d'oeuvre.

Also given is a list of stores in some of our large cities from which Chinese foods may be bought (including those shops that mail-order).

Here, with the author's kind permission, is her delicious recipe for barbecued spareribs. Before Grace Chu had a gas range with a vertical broiler, she perfected an ingenious way of using an oven for this dish, and her directions are included with her recipe.

GRACE CHU'S BARBECUED SPARERIBS

2 pounds baby pork ribs
2 scallions cut in 2-inch pieces
2 cloves of garlic, slightly crushed
1 tablespoon chili sauce
1 tablespoon tomato ketchup
2 tablespoons soy sauce
2 tablespoons dry sherry
1 tablespoon corn syrup
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon honey

Preparation: Marinate the ribs in a flat pan with the remaining ingredients except the honey for about 2 hours. After an hour, baste and turn over. Brush the ribs on both sides with honey.

Cooking Procedures: Hook the ribs to the cross-bars of the shelves in your oven and roast for 30 minutes at 275 degrees, for another 30 minutes at 300 degrees and finally for 10 minutes at 400 degrees. Serve hot or cold and cut for appetizer or hors d'oeuvre.

Tips: Spareribs may be made the day before and heated before serving, unless they are to be served cold.

Make hooks from wire coat hangers by cutting wire into pieces 3 inches long and bending at both ends. Hook one end onto the crossbar and the other end onto the ribs. Each rack of ribs should have 2 hooks attached to the thick ends. Set a large pan with water in the over to catch the drippings and also to give out moisture to keep the ribs from becoming too dry.

Do FALSE TEETH

Odd-numbered Districts Face Reshuffling In Pa. Senate Redistricting Plan

By JACK LYNCH

The Adams-Franklin state senatorial district is No. 33.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The senatorial reapportionment numbers game is shaping up as a case of odd man out.

Only those senators from odd-numbered districts need be concerned as work progresses on a plan to reshuffle the Senate for the first time since 1923 along population lines under a mandate from the U.S. Supreme Court.

Based on 1960 U.S. census figures and a population requirement in the state constitution, Allegheny, Delaware and Montgomery Counties must be given additional seats.

FIXED AT 50

Since the constitution also requires 50 senatorial districts, the seats for the three counties must be found by realigning the present districts.

"If the redistricting plan is to take effect next year you can only eliminate seats in odd-numbered districts which will be up for election in 1964," Sen. Marvin V. Keller said today with the air of a man holding a tiger by the tail.

"Senators from even-numbered districts could not be eliminated because they were elected in 1962 for four years," he continued. "It is my understanding that there is no provision for eliminating a senator until his term is ended."

That means that the three "losers" must come from odd-numbered districts.

WOULD HAVE TO GO

Keller said the 21st District, one of two in Luzerne County, would have to go because the county no longer meets the constitutional requirements for two seats.

The 21st District is represented by Democratic Sen. Martin L. Murray. The 20th District, also in Luzerne, is represented by a Republican, Sen. Harold Flack.

Keller explained that the constitution requires one and three-fifths of a population ratio for a county to have two senators. A four-fifths ratio is required for one seat.

A ratio is 226,000-plus population, attained by dividing 50 into the state's total population.

17TH MAY GO

It also was indicated that the 17th District, comprising all of Lebanon County and part of Lancaster County, would be eliminated. The district is represented by Sen. Thomas A. Ehrgood, Lebanon Republican.

"It is believed that the Lebanon-Lancaster district is unconstitutional as it now stands," said Keller, "because the constitution says counties may not be split to form a district."

Keller declined to confirm that the 17th District would be dissolved by making Lancaster a district of itself and moving Lebanon into the Dauphin district.

33 MEET REQUIREMENTS

Keller said 33 districts now meet the population qualifications for seats. These include the eight required for Philadelphia; seven in Allegheny—an increase of one—two each in Montgomery and Delaware Counties and one each in Luzerne, York, Lackawanna, Lehigh, Northampton, Berks, Erie, Westmoreland, Washington, Cambria, Beaver, Lancaster, Dauphin and Chester Counties.

That leaves only the odd-numbered seats in the remaining 17 districts from which to choose.

Asked if he knew where the seats would come from, Keller said:

"I have a general idea, but I'm not in shape now to say."

Keller said he had hoped to introduce the reapportionment bill early in April, but because of problems in drafting the new lines it will be delayed indefinitely.

Indications are that the bill will

Today In Harrisburg

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
HARRISBURG (AP)—The cost of living in Pennsylvania rose to a record high in the last three months of 1962, the Labor and Industry Department reports.

The department said Monday the cost of living index in the state rose by 0.2 from October through December of 1962. This placed the index 6.4 per cent above the base period established for the years 1957-59—the highest it has been since that time.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Health Department has recalled the $10,432 appointment of a Reading doctor who had been convicted in 1962 on a narcotics charge.

Health Secretary Charles L. Wilbur said Monday in referring to the appointment last week of Dr. Allen M. Snyder as a Health Department physician: "That it would not be in the best interest of the department to hire him."

Snyder was appointed to head the department's state rehabilitation center of alcoholism at Danville.

The appointment came under fire after it was learned that Snyder had pleaded guilty in Berks County court a year ago to two counts of concealing the fact that he had purchased narcotics.

Judge Warren K. Hess sentenced him to two years probation and fined him $200.

HARRISBURG (AP) — The dairy that delivers milk to your home could match the price you pay for the same quantity of milk at the store under a new Senate bill.

As it is now, dairies must charge at least a cent a quart more for home delivered milk.

Three Republicans introduced a bill Monday to give dealers the option of matching store prices.

Sponsors of the measure (S319) were Sens. Jack E. McGregor and Robert D. Fleming, Allegheny Republicans, and Richard C. Frame, R-Venango.

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Revenue Department Monday was forced to grant an extension of the March 31 deadline for automobile license applications. The length of the extension will not be announced until Saturday, however.

Revenue Secretary Theodore B. Smith said some 1.3 million automobile owners have yet to return their renewal forms.

Smith said earlier this month he did not intend to extend the deadline, but a review of the remaining workload forced him to reverse himself.

Selecting Jury In Teamsters' Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—A jury has been selected for the trial of Newburgh city manager Joseph Mitchell on bribery and conspiracy charges.

Even before selection of the jury was completed Monday, Mitchell's attempt to apply a stringent code for administering public welfare entered the case.

William Power Maloney, counsel for Lawrence J. Di Masi Jr., who is on trial with Mitchell, asked prospective jurors whether they had any strong feelings on Mitchell's relief proposals.

Maloney mentioned Mitchell's contention that able-bodied adults receiving Newburgh relief funds should be willing to perform work for the upstate city in return.

SUSPENDED SELF

State Supreme Court Justice Joseph A. Sarafite told Maloney that he was going to limit questioning on that subject, and said: "We are not going to try what is the proper or improper administration of the relief laws."

Most all of Mitchell's relief crackdown program, which gained him national prominence, was scrapped by the state Supreme Court in a case instituted by state welfare officials.

Mitchell has suspended himself as city manager pending outcome of the trial.

The Washington Senators have only four of the original 28 players they drafted at $75,000 each in the American League expansion program.

The New York Yankee duo of starter Whitey Ford and reliever Marshall Bridges combined to pitch three shutouts during the 1962 season.

WILL ASK FOR CONSTITUTION REFERENDUM

By VINCENT P. CAROCCI
HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton will ask the legislature—probably next week—to place a constitutional convention referendum on the November ballot, it was learned today.

Sources close to the governor said the November referendum is one of a basic three-point program on constitutional revision that Scranton plans to present to the General Assembly.

Assuming the referendum is approved by the voters, the sources said Scranton's timetable would have the convention delegates elected at the spring primary next year.

UNVEILING WEDNESDAY

The delegates would be selected according to the pending reapportioned districts of the state House of Representatives, the sources said.

The number of delegates would be equal to the number of representatives under the reapportioned system.

The governor is scheduled to unveil his revision plans Wednesday when he appears at a membership meeting of the Committee for State Constitutional Revision.

The committee had recommended to the governor that he urge the legislature to call a constitutional convention without first obtaining voter approval.

Referendums, the committee noted, have been rejected five times since the adoption of the current state constitution in 1874.

In spite of this bit of history, one source said, Scranton feels a referendum "is the most practical way to do it."

Two other alternatives were studied—the committee's suggestion and revision by amendment.

The source said it was doubtful that the legislature was of a mind to call a convention without first taking it to the voters. Also, the legality of this maneuver had been questioned and the issue could very well have gone to court—a time consuming process.

AMENDMENTS SLOW

Revision by amendment, another source said, was considered "too slow and cumbersome." Scranton, he said, was keeping this in reserve should the referendum be defeated.

One important feature of the governor's plan is still uncertain at this stage.

That concerns the question of the state income tax. The courts have ruled the current constitution prohibits a graduated personal income tax.

INCOME TAX ANGLE

The primary reason advanced by those close to the situation for the defeat of previous referendums is that the voters fear a state income tax will be legalized if they okay a convention.

Observers speculated that the governor would ignore this question for the time being in order to keep it from being ballooned out of proportion early in the game.

However, it is an issue that must be faced. The timing and the technique may, in the final analysis, be the deciding factors in the fate of the referendum.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Vietnamese troops fought a heavy clash with Communist guerrillas Monday near the hamlet of Ap Bac, and heavy losses were reported on both sides. An early report said government troops suffered 18 killed and 14 wounded. The Viet Cong reportedly lost 33 killed, including a company commander and several other officers.

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists have arrested more than 500 Hong Kong fishermen in international waters in the past few weeks, a local fisherman said today. The informant said Communist water police claimed the fishermen had not registered with the Red authorities.

Confederacy White House Is Civil War Museum Now

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Here, in a tall house of infinite sadness, the raveled leftovers of a nation are spread before curious visitors who speak in the low tones of spectators at a funeral.

Before oak-bound cases you can linger over the property of Lee and Davis, Jackson and Stuart. Most of it is marked by the moth and rust of a hundred years. Some of it looks almost new.

All of it speaks of a time that began with cheers and songs and ended, four years away, in the tears of Appomattox.

This is the White House of the Confederacy.

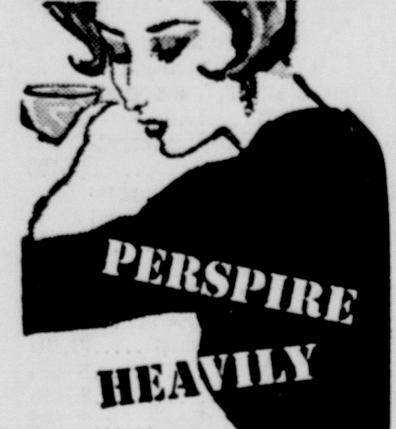

Here, President Jefferson Davis was cheered by the dispatches from Manassas and Fredericksburg and dismayed by news of Vicksburg and Gettysburg. From here he fled when Lee pulled his ragged army from the lines at Petersburg in 1865, leaving Richmond to invasion and the torch.

Here, too, Lincoln conferred with occupation generals after the city was filled with federal troops.

Today the three-story brick and mortar wartime home of Jefferson Davis stands literally in the shadows of the buildings of the Medical College of Virginia. Beside its towering neighbors the old museum assumes a brooding and indrawn posture, perhaps an appropriate reflection of President Davis himself. It seems remote from the bustling stream of hospital life only a few feet distant.

Within the walls now painted Confederate gray is jammed a phenomenal collection of the war

Bidault Flies Out Of West Germany

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Former French Premier Georges Bidault has been flown out of West Germany to an unknown destination, sources at the Bavarian Interior Ministry reported today. The Interior Ministry said Bidault, who claims to head the French underground trying to overthrow President Charles de Gaulle, left the nearby village of Steinebach with a police escort Monday night. Informants at the ministry said Bidault was driven to the Munich airport and boarded a plane. They refused to give his destination. Bavarian police found Bidault March 10 in the Steinbach villa of Heinz Nouhuys, a Dutch writer.

McSherrystown

MRS. LESTER BOWMAN McSHERRYSTOWN — The McSherrystown Knights of Columbus will hold their regular meeting this evening at 8 o'clock at the K. of C. home, Main St. The first degree will be exemplified on 10 new candidates. The McSherrystown Fire Co. was called Monday about 1:30 p.m. to a grass fire behind the property of Paul Knox, Stambaugh St. No damage was reported.

36 days that proved Ford's total performance!

RIVERSIDE, CAL. January 20

In a total performance test of brakes, suspension and steering on the twisting Riverside sports car course, Dan Gurney drove a Ford hardtop to victory over 43 other stock cars. The 500-mile grind demonstrated Ford's superior stamina and road-holding.

MONTE CARLO January 23

The '63½ Falcon V-8 Sprints made their debut with a fantastic showing in the 2,500-mile Monte Carlo Rallye. Through Europe's worst winter weather they placed 1st and 2nd in class. Besides this, one Sprint defeated every entrant in the Rallye's six special stages.

PURE OIL TRIALS January 27

In a competition designed to test all-around performance, Fords were overall winners in Class I and Class II in the Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona. Their total performance design added up to most total points in gas economy, acceleration and braking events.

DAYTONA, FLA. February 24

Daytona "500" history was made when '63½ Fords blazed into the first five places! Since Daytona is the toughest track in the world, this was eyewitness proof that Ford's total performance design can endure the maximum in automotive punishment.

... and here are the 63½'s that gave total proof of Ford's durability and handling!

You may never see a competitive auto event. But at 30 mph on rain-slick blacktop, in the close-packed rush of 5 o'clock traffic, on a twisting mountain road, the results are important to you. On every slippery surface you need the kind of roadability that placed five Fords out front in the Daytona "500." On every busy cross street—you want the brakes that won on Riverside's sports car circuit. Your engine will hold up better through years of turnpike use because it's as beautifully balanced as Falcon's Monte Carlo V-8's. The winning competition car is bound to be a great road car—and Ford is the big winner!

If it's Ford-built, it's built for performance... total performance!
